4 Teenage Gang Members Guilty In Boy's Slaying

2 Convicted of 2nd Degree Murder, 2 Of Manslaughter

New York — Four members of a youth gang were convicted last night in the slaying of Michael Farmer, 15-year-old polio-crippled son of a city fireman.

All escaped the electric chair. The three other defendants were acquitted.

An all-male jury returned its verdict 24 hours after receiving the case.

Hardest hit were Charles "Big Man" Horton, an 18-year-old Negro, and Louis Alvarez, 17-year-old Puerto Rican.

Convicted of murder in the second degree, they face a mandatory term of 20 years to life in prison when they come up for sentencing May 21. They were the only defendants subject to judgment for first degree murder, for which the death sentence is mandatory.

Father Faints
Alvarez' father, Louis, fainted in court when he heard the verdict announced.

Found guilty of second degree manslaughter, which is punishable by up to 15 years in prison, were LeRoy Birch, a Negro who was the oldest defendant at 19, and Leoncio De Leon, 17, a native of the Dominican Republic.

Acquitted were the three remaining members of the Egyptian Dragons on trial: John W. McCarthy, an epileptic and the "baby" of the group at 15; Justice of the Richard Hills, 17, who had Peace Arthur claimed he was drafted into the D. U. N. who gang, and George Melendez, 16, also a revoked year-old native of Puerto Rico, his driver's license for one.

Ironically, Hills offered on year. March 3 to plead guilty first. He was arrested on manslaughter. Judge Irvin D. Davidson rejected his Sunday night plea.

Davidson praised the jurors' devotion. He directed Lecuyea tested .28 on the drunkometer. A reading of .15 is considered evidence of drunkenness.

State of City Talk Closely Follows Campaign Platform Which Earned Upset Victory

Mayor Clarence A. Mitchell Tuesday night called for a 6-point program to assure long-range planning for the city and an 8-point plan for improvement of city government organization, operation and administration.

His observations were made to the city council during his first "state of the city" address as mayor. They followed closely the platform which carried him to an upset victory over incumbent Robert L. Roemer in the spring election.

Planning, A Must
He suggested the council adopt "Community Progress" as its theme. "We must be alert to developments that are taking place all around us so that we will keep in step with progress," he said. "We must be aggressive in our thinking and in our planning so the people of Appleton will enjoy all the advantages and facilities a modern city has the right to expect."

Long range planning, he said, is a must. "It seems to be unmistakably clear," he explained, "that the people of our city want a definite, well-planned long-range program, one that looks ahead to future needs of the city as well as the present need . . . They want a long-range forward program, one that will keep Appleton in the front ranks of modern progress."

The following six points, Mitchell said, appear to him to be vital to a long range program:

1. Appointment of a 15-member citizens advisory committee "to review all the plans that have been and are being considered for Appleton's future progress" and to "do re-

Firms Predict Job Increases

State Chamber Makes Survey On Employment

Madison — The Wisconsin State Chamber of Commerce said today that 2,113 state firms report an expected aggregate increase of employment of 1,905 persons by May 15.

"The combined sentiment and outlook remains optimistic among the reporting firms," Joseph C. Fagan, of the chamber, said in a report on conditions.

"The survey is only a sample," he added, "although it remains as the best and current sample available on employment trends."

"The sample shows that employers in 14 of the 18 labor market areas expect an improvement in employment between March 15 and May 15. These are Appleton, Eau Claire, Fond du Lac, Green Bay, Janesville, Madison, Manitowish, Milwaukee, Neenah-Menasha, Oshkosh, Racine, Sheboygan, Superior and Wausau."

Leveling Off Indicated
"Employers in four areas that expect a drop in employment are in Beloit, Kenosha, La Crosse and Wausau."

Fagan added that the estimates "give plausible arguments to statements that we are leveling off."

"However," he added, "these employers saw a gain of employees in the January-March period of 1,800 which failed to materialize. Instead there was a drop of 11,410 in that period."

The reporting firms employed 429,080 people on March 15 as compared with 440,490 on Jan. 15, according to figures compiled by the Wisconsin State Employment Service.

"Suffice it to say," Fagan added, "we here in Wisconsin seem to be on an employment plateau — with things neither getting worse nor improving materially. In the aggregate, business men remain optimistic, however."

4 Killed as B47 Crashes, Burns

Portsmouth, N. H. — A B47 jet bomber crashed and burned last night taking off from Pease Air Force base. Its crew of four was killed. The crash was the second involving a B47 during the day. Another jet bomber plunged into Tampa bay, Fla., in the midst of a tornado that whipped that state's west coast. Four men were killed in that crash.

Williams, Kean Win New Jersey Primary Races

Compete in Nov. 4 Election for Seat Vacated by Smith

Newark, N. J. — It will be Harrison A. Williams, Jr., youthful former Democratic congressman, against Robert W. Kean, a veteran Republican congressman, in New Jersey's Nov. 4 U. S. senate election.

Williams, a 38-year-old Westfield lawyer, overcame a 72,000 plurality in Hudson county for his chief rival, Hoboken Mayor John J. Grogan, to win the Democratic primary election yesterday by over 14,000 votes.

The other Democratic candidate, State Conservation Commissioner Joseph E. McLean, ran a poor third.

Margin of 24,000
Kean, a 64-year-old banker with 18 years in congress, won a slightly easier victory. He defeated his nearest rival, Bernard M. Shanley, President Eisenhower's former appointments secretary, by over 24,000 votes, and he swamped Robert Morris, former chief counsel to the senate internal security subcommittee.

With 44 districts unreported of 1,184 in the state, this was the vote in the Democratic contest: Williams 151,069, Grogan 136,294 and McLean 51,339. In the Republican contest, the vote with 78 districts unreported: Kean 150,237, Shanley 125,774 and Morris 72,134.

Smith Not Candidate
Williams and Kean will run for the seat being vacated by H. Alexander Smith of Princeton, who decided not to seek reelection. Smith, who is 78, served 14 years in the senate.

Williams had the support of Gov. Robert B. Meyner and Democratic leaders of 19 of the state's 21 counties. A victory for Grogan, president of the National Shipbuilders' union who was backed by the state Meyner has been widely mentioned as a possibility for the 1960 Democratic national ticket.

Shanley and Morris urged Republicans to close ranks behind Kean. GOP leaders said the primary campaign left no wounds in their party. Kean said he would ask his two opponents to help him plan his campaign.

Defense Message Omits Issue of Money Control

Washington — President Eisenhower today sent congress his proposals for strengthening the hand of the secretary of defense but left for later action the matter of Pentagon money control.

The money question—over which a storm has blown up at the capitol—was put off for a year.

Eisenhower said in a message to congress that it will be dealt with in the defense department budget for the year starting July 1, 1959.

Dispatch of the message came on the heels of a news conference in which Eisenhower denied he had ever approved the idea of having congress appropriate a lump sum of money for the secretary of defense to finance the nation's military establishment. That had been the crux of congressional criticism of the White House plan on the basis of interpretation put on the first announcement early this month.

In the news conference Eisenhower did say that in some phases of the military operation he favors providing money for categories of tasks and letting the jobs be put where they can be best handled.

The message to congress said the secretary of defense "should have greater flexibility in money matters" but did not go into detail.

"Our goal must be maximum strength at minimum cost," Eisenhower told the legislators.

French Premier Quits On N. African Crisis

Felix Gaillard Talks to Newsmen as he leaves Elysee Palace in Paris following his resignation as premier of France. The French national assembly, echoing with cries of anti-American nature, rejected 321-255 Gaillard's call for acceptance of a U. S.-British plan for settling the French-Tunisian dispute. Gaillard resigned immediately. (AP Wirephoto)

Assembly Rejects Call To Accept U. S.-British Proposal for Settlement

Paris — France was back in familiar shape today: No government, a deepening crisis in North Africa and no solution in sight for either.

President Rene Coty began another weary round of political talks in search of someone who might rally enough national assembly votes to succeed Felix Gaillard as premier.

Gaillard resigned last night after the assembly voted 321-255 against his call to accept a U. S.-British plan for settlement of France's dispute with Tunisia. The plan called for French-Tunisian negotiations on withdrawal of French troops from all of Tunisia except the Bizerte naval base.

There was no readily apparent successor to the 38-year-old economist. The votes which finally cut him down after five months of cliff-hanging came from the two extremes of French politics, which cannot combine to form the 25th post-war government.

However, the socialists, who control about 100 votes sent out word that the only man they would support is former Premier and Foreign Minister Georges Bidault of the Catholic popular Republicans (MRP).

He voted against Gaillard last night and he has opposed the government's policy all along on the Tunisian issue. Thus it was also possible that Bidault could get support from the nationalist-minded right wing elements.

Rightists Lead Opposition
Other possibilities are former Premier Antoine Pinay; Jacques Soutelle, former governor general of Algeria; former Premier Rene Pleven, and Pierre Pflimlin, finance minister in the outgoing cabinet.

Gaillard's was the second successive government brought down by rightist opposition, led by followers of Gen. Charles de Gaulle, to concessions in North Africa. Last September they finished off Maurice Bourges-Maunoury because he proposed political reforms—later adopted—for Algeria. This time they triggered the political guillotine because Gaillard agreed to defer the French demand for closing of the Algerian-Tunisian border against the Algerian rebels.

The communists as usual opposed the government's continuing attempt to hold Algeria by subduing the 3½-year-old rebellion.

Gaillard's fall meant the end of the U. S.-British conciliation efforts begun after France bombed a Tunisian border village Feb. 8, claiming it harbored Algerian rebels. The 2-

Senate Probers Charge Attorney Acted Improperly

Washington — A lawyer for a Philadelphia teamsters union local was accused at a senate hearing today of "acting highly improperly" in serving also as counsel for men accused of stealing from their union.

The lawyer, John R. Carroll, denied any impropriety. But his conduct was questioned at a senate rackets committee hearing by Chairman McClellan (D-Ark), Sen. J. Lee (R-NY) and Committee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy.

Carroll testified he had told the ethics committee of the Philadelphia Bar association that Teamsters Local 107 was paying his fees for advising local union officials, some of whom pleaded the fifth amendment against possible self-incrimination.

Carroll said he had been assured it was ethical for him to do so. He said he was not telling his clients to invoke the fifth amendment but was merely advising them they had a right to do so.

The exchange occurred after Edward Battisfore, vice president and business agent of Local 107, refused to testify whether he had profited from the alleged alteration of an expense voucher.

NATO Aiming to Double Forces

Paris — NATO's defense ministers agreed unanimously today that western ground strength in Europe must be doubled and their forces equipped with arms that can deliver nuclear warheads against a communist attack.

Speaking in succession, the ministers from the North Atlantic Treaty countries approved in principle the report submitted by NATO's supreme commander in Europe, U. S. Gen. Lauris Norstad. He said he needed at least 28 to 30 ground divisions in Europe and at present has only about half that number.

Persons attending the closed meeting said some ministers expressed doubt the money could be found to give Norstad what he wants, but all gave their unanimous backing to the report.

Ike Silent on Fate Of Road Measure

Refuses to Say Whether He Will Approve or Veto Bill

Washington — President Eisenhower left up in the air today whether he will sign or veto the interstate highway bill. He told his news conference he will act before a midnight deadline on the measure, which would put an additional $1,800,000,000 into a speedup of the construction program.

Asked for an indication of what he plans to do, the president first said that he has until midnight and will send a message on the bill before then.

He corrected himself to say that no tax reduction is necessary at this time.

Eisenhower also cautioned against rushing into any huge public works program in an effort to combat the recession.

Saying we must be very careful about getting into such programs, Eisenhower added we should try to be reasonable and not get what

Fugitive Slain, Another Captured After 5 Escape From Jail in Ohio

Akron, Ohio — Five "dangerous and armed" prisoners broke from the Summit county jail today. One was captured on the street and another was shot and killed in a home a few blocks away.

They threw hot coffee into the face of a jailer to start their break for freedom, then took two pistols and a riot gun from the jail, said Capt. Charles Capron of the sheriff's office.

A short while later George Huff, 23, of Enadiah Way, Calif., was picked up as he walked along the street.

Then officers found Virgil Akers, 21, of Akron, at the near home of a girl he had known face cuts, Capron said, and before being jailed, and shot at St. Thomas hospital.

After throwing the scalding coffee in his face, the five made their way to the radio room in the lobby where they grabbed Radioman Marvin Francis and

They disabled both men and also took a riot gun. Then they dashed across the street to the county garage, stole a car used by county commissioners and took off.

Capron said the direction in which the fugitives are heading is unknown.

The state highway patrol said a full-scale alarm is out for the fugitives.

Feel Nasser May Try To End Suez Dispute

Western Diplomats Anticipate Move by Egyptian President Before Visit Monday to Moscow

BY JOHN SCALI
Washington — (AP) — Western diplomats said today they anticipate a possible move by Egypt's President Nasser to settle the Suez canal dispute before he visits Moscow next Monday.

Any such development would be the most important step he has yet taken to patch up his 21-month-old quarrel with the west over his seizure of the Suez waterway.

An agreement by Nasser to give adequate compensation to Suez Canal company stockholders would open the way for improved relations with the United States and an end to the financial-economic freeze against his country.

Secretary of State Dulles said yesterday he would be willing to unfreeze $30 million of Egyptian government assets in this country if there were reasonable prospects of a Suez Canal settlement.

Narrow Differences

Dulles reported confidential talks in Rome have narrowed the wide differences over the amount Nasser should pay for canal properties. He said there was prospect of continued progress in future discussions.

Authorities who have followed the negotiations reported that there were signs Nasser might be prepared to make the additional concessions needed to outline an agreement within the next week.

Some of these officials said, however, that the timing could be viewed as calculated to strengthen Nasser's bargaining power in his quest for additional Soviet economic aid for his newly created United Arab Republic.

Nasser is scheduled to be an honor guest of Soviet Premier Khrushchev during his Moscow stay. In addition to witnessing May day festivities, he is also to discuss economic and military aid problems, these informants said.

The improved outlook for a Suez canal settlement coincides with indications the state department has decided to make a more determined effort to get along with Nasser.

Top officials declined to acknowledge any shift in policy publicly. But they said a big

Poisoned Candy Sent to Wife

Los Angeles — (AP) — A 300-pound transient tried to kill his estranged wife and mother-in-law with poisoned sweets, sheriff's deputies report.

James C. Gaither, 41, arrested yesterday, mailed arsenic-laced candy to his wife, Mary, and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Mary E. Urias, officers said.

"I was mad at the whole bunch of them," officers quoted Gaither as saying. "My wife was going to take the kids for good."

His wife, Mrs. Urias, and his wife's two children ate some of the candy. They became violently ill. But prompt medical attention saved their lives, officers said, and they will recover.

Gaither was booked on suspicion of administering poison with intent to kill.

Florida City Cleaning Up After Tornado

50 Persons Hurt, Property Damage Up to $5 Million

Fort Pierce, Fla. — (AP) — Martial law was lifted today and this city of 23,000 began the task of cleaning up in the wake of a capricious tornado. It left 50 persons injured and property damage estimated at $5 million. No deaths were reported.

Storm clouds also bred twisters north of here, at St. Augustine, and on the Florida west coast, near Fort Myers and at Wimauma, 25 miles south of Tampa.

The hardest hit was Fort Pierce. The storm struck at 1:15 p. m. yesterday.

The freak winds straddled parts of Fort Pierce's main thoroughfare from west to east. The Red Cross reported today that 37 homes were destroyed. Fifteen others sustained major damage and 150 to 200 received minor damage.

T. L. Conn, Red Cross field representative from Atlanta, said 26 persons were hospitalized but 10 had been discharged. Four of the others were in critical condition.

Winds reached velocities of over 80 m. p. h.

The refrigerators were tossed about like empty matchboxes, roofs lifted off and huge truckloads of tomatoes overturned or pushed into orange groves beside the road.

An elderly couple, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Johnson, said their home seemed to disappear all at once.

"We were sitting in the kitchen when the tornado struck," related Mrs. Johnson. "We looked around and there just wasn't any house left."

Mrs. Gilbert Kutner saw the storm coming. It was "a huge gray wall moving fast and roaring," she said. The roof was torn from her home.

Milwaukee Man Killed in Crash

Milwaukee — (AP) — The death of a Milwaukee man in an accident west of Watertown early today raised the 1958 Wisconsin highway toll to 181 compared with 214 fatalities on this date one year ago.

Robert A. Shantner, 19, of Milwaukee was killed at 1:30 a. m. today when the car in which he was riding overturned on Highway 19, 10 miles west of Watertown, and plunged into an embankment. The driver, Richard Catencamp, 19, also of Milwaukee was reported in serious condition in St. Mary hospital at Watertown.

How Radioactive are You?

Fallout Varies and Exact Effects Await Long Study

BY ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

New York — (AP) — Fallout is making you radioactive. But just how much? How much radiation do you actually get?

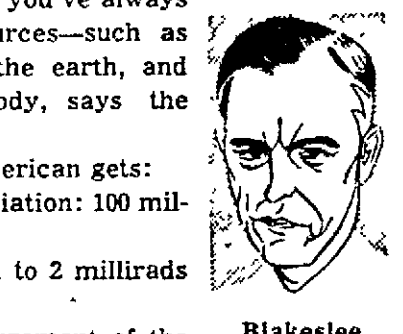

Only 1 to 2 per cent more than you've always been getting from natural sources—such as from cosmic rays, radium in the earth, and radioactive atoms in your body, says the atomic energy commission.

The AEC says the average American gets:

From natural, unavoidable radiation: 100 millirads a year.

From all bomb tests so far: 1 to 2 millirads a year.

A millirad is a unit of measurement of the radiation absorbed by body tissues. It's roughly equivalent to a thousandth of a roentgen.

Blakeslee

There are wide swings from this average.

In Denver, people get 147 millirads a year from natural radiation. Higher in altitude, Denver gets more cosmic rays. Also, it sits on ground containing more radioactive minerals.

Memphis, on the other hand, gets only 83 millirads a year from natural radiation.

Thus a resident of Denver gets almost twice as much natural radiation a year as does one in Memphis. Well, then, do people who live in Denver run almost twice the risk of having deformed babies as those who live in Memphis?

Is this higher natural radiation having that kind of bad effect on future generations, on heredity?

No one can say — no one has made such studies. Scientists would have to study many generations of people —who stayed put in Denver and Memphis—to get exact answers about any risk from this natural radiation.

Second of Series

The point is that bomb fallout is adding only a tiny amount.

There is not any average fallout, either. It can and does vary.

Northern states have been getting more fallout atoms than southern states, says the AEC. A main reason is they have had more rain and snow, which carries the atom down to earth.

AEC Makes Study

Town near the Nevada test site can, of course, acquire more fallout atoms than distant towns. The closer you are, the more fallout you can expect, if only from dirt sucked up and made radioactive by the bomb explosion. This heavier dust falls sooner than the lighter atoms, which are shot up higher and are carried farther.

The AEC has just reported a comparative study on amounts of fallout and radiation from it.

This measured the fallout accumulating on the ground up until last June 30. From this was calculated the exposure—in X-rays — that people living

Steinle Criticizes U. S. Foreign Aid Program in Speech

By The Associated Press

Gov. Vernon Thomson concentrated on agriculture in an address Tuesday night, while the size of U. S. foreign aid program was criticized by Roland Steinle, candidate for Republican nomination to the U. S. senate.

Claude Jasper of Madison, the state Republican party chairman, announced that Meade Alcorn, GOP national chairman, will address the state party convention in Milwaukee next month. The keynote will be set by Sen. Schoepel (R-Kan), chairman of the Republican senatorial campaign committee.

At a father and sons banquet of the Future Farmers of America at Monroe, Thomson said Wisconsin leadership in agriculture has been achieved through the efforts and self-reliance of Wisconsin farmers who realized the opportunities of free enterprise.

He added that Wisconsin farmers have insisted on doing things for themselves, rather than having others do them.

At a dinner for Republican leaders in Hayward, Steinle said congress must immediately curtail U. S. foreign aid programs before the nation wrecks its own economy in helping underdeveloped foreign countries.

He said he found people around the state are fearful that taxation was approaching confiscatory levels.

add one-tenth to one-half of a roentgen.

There seems little room to argue that fallout is adding only slightly to the unavoidable radiation we have to live with.

The real disagreements come on the question of what this addition is doing to us biologically.

Still and all, says the AEC, fallout has added only a tiny percentage to the normal, background radiation.

Most estimates have to be based on AEC studies, since it is the only agency which has made widespread, detailed measurements.

A National Academy of Sciences report, now nearly two years old, put it this way:

Removal of Boulder May Reveal Hidden Treasure

Authorities Give Credence to Story Of Buried Gold Beneath Texas House

Dallas — (AP) — The ancient lure of secret symbols and buried gold spurred a family's hopes removal of a boulder today would reveal a Spanish treasure.

At least two authorities have given some credence to parts of the story.

It all started when Miguel Rodriguez, who identifies himself as a Del Rio, Texas, grocer, visited Eugenio Gaytan, 77, a candy maker here.

He said markings on a piece of soft granite flagstone behind the house led him to believe there might be treasure under the home.

Rodriguez, who says he is a prospector and expert on Spanish treasure symbols who studied archeology in Chihuahua, Mexico, told Gaytan to tear up a bedroom floor and start digging.

Permit to Excavate

The Gaytans got a city permit to excavate and started.

In three weeks, using hand tools, the family went down 12 feet through clay to limestone. It found a sharp, jutting piece of rock Rodriguez called an eagle's beak. He said it points toward the treasure.

Also found was a hexagonal-shaped piece of metal which looks as if it might have been a file. What appears to be a "C" and a "G" appear on the limestone near the beak.

Gaytan called the fire department yesterday and asked a check for gas before trying to remove a boulder in line with the beak.

That brought the attempt to light.

Firemen said there was no gas.

New York — (AP) — A shimmering 18-foot painting of water lilies by Claude Monet, valued at $40,000, was destroyed Tuesday by a fire at the museum of modern art.

Of the 11,000 art objects in the museum, only five other paintings were found damaged in first checks.

Two multimillion-dollar special exhibits escaped harm.

Board Defers Aid To Guidance Clinic

$25,000 Request Being Studied; Await State Plan

The Outagamie county board Tuesday decided not to do anything about a child guidance center until the state makes some decision on its proposed pilot study on prevention of juvenile delinquency.

The board acted after the center's board of directors for the second time asked the board to consider financing the center.

Oxford Paper Says First Quarter Sales, Profit Decreased

Boston — Although complete figures are not yet available, first quarter earnings and sales of Oxford Paper company "will show a reduction" compared with a year earlier, William H. Chisholm, president, said at the annual meeting in Portland, Maine.

In the first quarter of 1957, Oxford reported earnings of $1.09 a share on sales of $15,733,032.

Chisholm disclosed Oxford is paying $1,500,000 in cash and 60,000 shares of its common stock for the previously announced acquisition of the stock of Champion-International company, wholly-owned subsidiary of National Geographic Society.

At recent prices for Oxford stock, the total purchase price of Champion-International would be about $3,285,000.

Chisholm said Champion-International has a book value something in excess of $5 million, with working capital of approximately $1,750,000 and sales at an annual rate of $10.5 million. The acquisition is scheduled for completion by June 4.

Champion-International's mill at Lawrence, Mass., has an annual capacity of 35,000 tons of high quality coated papers, which it produces for the magazine of the National Geographic Society.

Chisholm also announced Oxford is constructing a paper coating machine at Rumford, Me., capable of operating at speeds from 200 to 2,000 feet a minute. The machine will allow Oxford to "substantially increase" production of quality magazine stock, he said.

since the state study was too far in the future.

Board Chairman Alvin Fulcer said the board's executive committee, which has been studying the center's request for $25,000 since last September, was not prepared to report on it. He added that the committee felt the state's report should come before any board action.

The state has proposed a study in an area which would include an attempt at determining better methods of control and prevention of juvenile delinquency and related social problems. A number of services would be set up and the community would be asked to continue them after the study.

Appleton organizations and the county board have backed this area for the study. However, the state legislature has appropriated $42,000 instead of the $200,000 the state welfare department asked. In light of this, the welfare department has been trying without success, to get federal aid or a private foundation to aid the study.

Before any selection of an area, the state department indicates in a letter to the county board, a chance for interested communities to present their cases will be given.

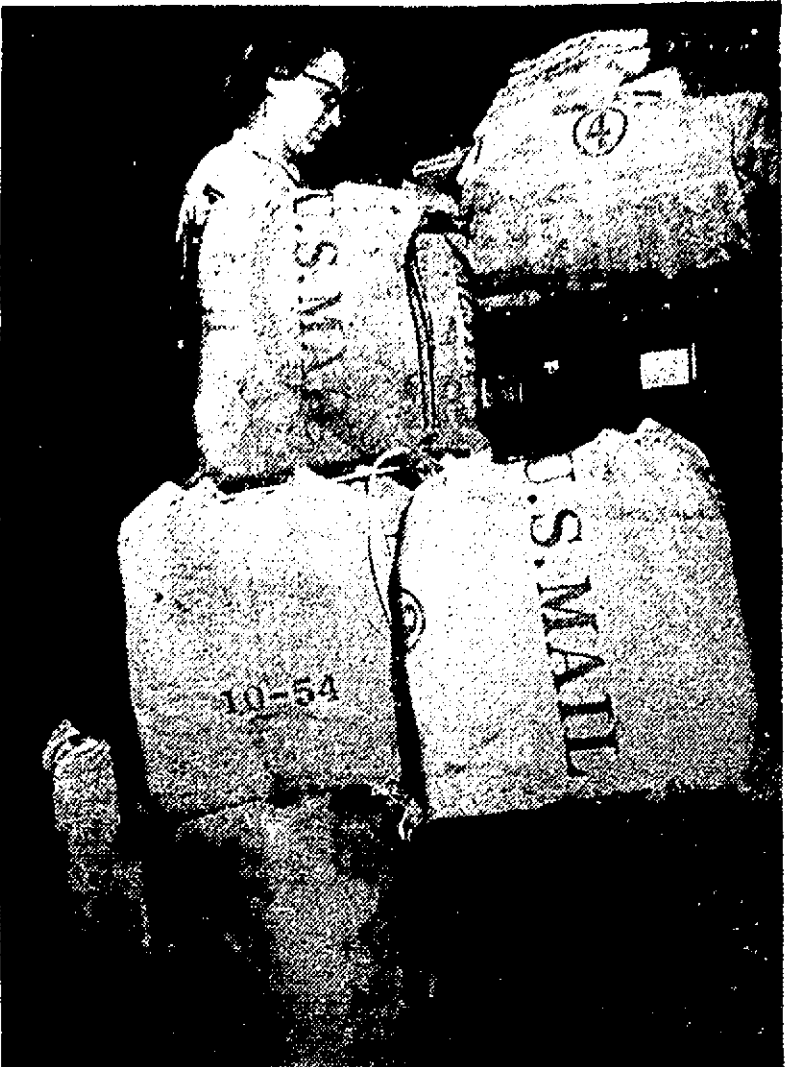

What's the Status

Fourteenth Ward Supv. Philip Retson said he'd had many inquiries about the center, adding, "What'll I tell them now—is it killed, are we studying the question, what's the status right now?"

Fulcer explained the guidance center could be established in two ways: through the county public welfare department or as a separate unit. The guidance center officials have chosen to set up the center as a separate unit, Fulcer said, which cuts off any state aid. The executive committee, he added, is examining other county plans to find out the best method.

Combined Locks Supv. Daniel J. Williams told Retson the center question was not killed, but the board should wait and see what the state does. "This is a bigger proposition than the people in Appleton realize and it will be expensive," he added.

The board filed the guidance center board of director's request, pending further study.

To Your Good Health Senses of Taste, Smell Frequently Interrelated

By Joseph G. Molner, M. D.

What is the "sense of taste"? What can happen to destroy it? One readers says:

"I have lost taste and smell. I know this may happen when you have a cold, but I haven't had one for a year."

Another reader, after tipping her head and taking an extra application of a nasal spray to clear up a stuffy nose, found that:

"My sense of smell has been affected. I've enjoyed smoking in the past, but now cigarette smoke has a repulsive odor. Food doesn't taste right and I can't enjoy its aroma."

Let's first analyze taste. It is fourfold: Sweet, salt, sour, and longue. (Some of these are branches of the facial nerve.)

Thus in persistent trouble of this sort, it is wise to enlist the aid of a neurologist.

It is also possible to have the trouble on either one side or both sides of the tongue or nose, but simple tests can determine this.

Can Be Involved

In any event, while I haven't covered all of the possible causes, you can readily see that this sort of trouble can range from simple to very involved. To cite a few more underlying causes that have been known to bring the trouble, there are chemical poisonings, paralysis, from a stroke or other cause, the aftermath of syphilis that was not treated promptly, and tumors.

It also is possible for hysteria to result in loss of taste or smell, showing what a wide variety of things may be involved.

Aspirin Upset

"Dear Dr. Molner: I have had arthritis since early fall, and was told to take eight aspirins a day, but they gave me indigestion and made me so sick I had to stop taking them. Is there any other known medicine that would help me and not make me sick?—F. W."

Some people find that aspirin upsets their stomachs. That is one reason why "buffered" forms are available—another material is added, which acts as a "buffer," protecting against the irritation of the aspirin. These do not, as a rule, appear under the name of "buffered aspirin." Instead, they often have names quite different from aspirin, but your druggist can tell you which they are. If you do not readily find one which agrees with you, then by all means appeal to your doctor for further suggestions.

Pilonidal Cyst

"Dear Dr. Molner: What causes hairs to grow inward and cause a discharge at the end of the spine? Is it very dangerous? Can it be stopped without an operation?"

I rather question whether "hairs growing inward" has anything to do with the cause of this, because to me it sounds like the well-known problems of pilonidal cyst. That is, a defect in the development of the lower segments of the spine. The dangers of an untreated cyst of this sort are infection of the area, pain, and discomforting drainage from the area. Surgery provides a cure. It is something to have taken care of, but not a cause for any great fear.

Union Bag-Camp Paper First Quarter Net Down

Jersey City — Union Bag-Camp Paper corporation's first quarter earnings dropped to 45 cents a share from 67 cents in the first quarter of 1957, Alexander Calder, chairman, said at the annual meeting.

In 1957 Union Bag had a first period net income of $4,752,273, or 67 cents a share, on sales of $39,266,059.

Calder said the first quarter was the company's best in 1957, and profits declined after that. He expressed hope that this year earnings will rise in later periods.

He said, however, "I don't think the company's earnings this year will equal 1957, but then I doubt if the earnings of anybody in the paper industry this year will equal 1957."

Union Bag had a 1957 net income of $18,133,345, or $2.49 a share, from sales of $160,731,739.

New Findings To Aid Research Into Proteins

Nutrition Institute

Philadelphia — New research findings reported here today will make it possible for scientists to delve deeper into problems of protein nutrition. A. E. Harper, University of Wisconsin biochemist speaking at the sessions of the American Institute of Nutrition, gave details of research on the sequence in which protein building blocks, called amino acids, become limiting for growth when casein, an important milk component, serves as the protein source of the diet. Information he gave will make it possible for scientists purposely to bring about imbalances of specific amino acids, using the relatively inexpensive casein as the base protein of the diet.

Cuts Expense

Such research would have otherwise had to be done with mixtures of pure amino acids — some of which cost as much as $50 to $100 per ounce. And this type of research has recently become very important in this protein-conscious era. An abnormally large proportion of one amino acid may interfere with the body's utilization of other of these essential protein constituents. This interference is most likely with diets extremely low in protein. Knowledge of possible imbalances is essential to guide nutritionists in wise use of amino acid supplements to improve nutrition.

Wed., April 16, 1958

Of the 10 essential amino acids the most limiting one is methionine, as previous studies had shown. Threonine was next most limiting, Harper reported. Tryptophan, isoleucine, leucine, histidine, valine, and phenylalanine all seemed about equal. Lysine was next in order, and arginine was the last to become limiting for growth of laboratory rats.

These results, obtained in rat feeding experiments, extend the information from chemical and microbiological studies of casein amino acid composition, Harper stated. The information he reported today takes into account a number of biological factors influencing the utilization of amino acids.

Mitchell Outlines Planning Program

search with a view to Appleton's future needs."

"A citizens advisory committee," he said, "has a value over and above the recommendations it would make. It would be a definite help to the common council. Obviously, what people study and understand and help create, they will actively support."

Railroad Problem

2. A constant effort to upgrade the city's transportation facilities. "I shall immediately look into the railroad transportation problem and report to you the possibilities for improving the facilities in this regard. Several proposals along this line have been submitted for consideration. If necessary, I shall appoint council and citizen members to assist me in a consideration of this matter."

Mitchell said a fine job has been done toward obtaining air services and "we need to keep the future in mind so Appleton and the Fox Cities eventually may become connected with our principal airline routes." Bus and truck transportation should not be overlooked, he added.

3. A community and civic center. There is widespread support for a center, he said, particularly one which will offer space for youth programs, conventions and conferences. "This project, because of its vastness, cannot be decided and completed in a few months," he said, "but there is no reason why we should not start now by giving it the consideration it deserves."

Mitchell suggested converting the post office building into a center if the federal government decides to build a new one in Appleton and if it's feasible.

Industrial Development

4. Aggressive encouragement of industrial development. "My administration will give industrial development the attention it deserves, and I know I can count on your (the council's) all-out efforts in this regard. Additional employment and resultant payrolls are a necessary part of a healthy economy."

5. A well thought out long-range educational program.

The recent survey of future needs by the board of education is commendable, he said, and will be a definite help. He recommended the council name a liaison committee to work with the board of education to "unify the thinking on our long-range educational facilities and needs."

6. Cooperation with the Fox Valley Regional Planning commission.

"We cannot exist by ourselves," said Mitchell. "We are a part of the area surrounding us. We are in a very real sense interdependent and inter-related with the communities in the Fox Cities area in many ways. While governmentally we have separate jurisdictions, economically we are all one community. People who live in our city have jobs in other Fox Cities and vice versa. This means that there are some problems, projects and needs in which we have a common interest."

Common Good

"It is my suggestion," he said, "that we cooperate with the Fox Cities area planning commission and unite with it in a way that will promote the interests of the people of the Fox Cities area as well as our city. We have much to gain by working together and by uniting our efforts in the Fox Cities for our common good."

Mitchell's suggestions concerning the city government itself involved such things as the department heads, the city's county board supervisors, a central repair shop, annexation and zoning, public and teenage safety programs, tax expenditures, the fire and police departments, and an inspector for construction work.

He promised to hold monthly meetings of department heads. "Our city employees have the talent. They will be given an opportunity and medium for putting their best ideas to work."

Repair Shop

He called for several informal meetings each year with the city's county board supervisors to help the city, the individual supervisors and the county board.

The central repair shop, he said, should be given immediate attention by the appropriate committee of the council.

It would speed up repairs and save money, he said.

"While we should not move too rapidly, neither should we delay annexations unduly," said Mitchell. "I am confident the board of public works will give this the attention it deserves. I would like the board to ask for such assistance it needs from time to time. We most certainly will give the board the assistance it deems necessary with annexation problems."

Changes are inevitable in zoning laws when a city grows and should be given continuous attention, the mayor said.

Youth should be invited to plan along with adults any safety programs that evolve, he said. An example is the county teenage safety-council program "that merits our fullest support," he added.

Driver Training

"Our schools," said Mitchell, "give an excellent driver education program. I recommend an adequate program be adopted so teenagers have an opportunity for effective behind-the-wheel training instruction. The vocational school has recently adopted a behind-the-wheel training program. It has engaged three instructors who will enable the school to give the kind of behind-the-wheel training many people of our city have wanted for some time."

The finance committee (Ald. Ervin J. Bogan, Mrs. Dorothy Stillings, Homer Malmstrom, R. P. Groh and Donald Mueller) has aided men with seasoned experience who, he expects, will watch tax expenditures closely. He asked employees to cooperate and pledged his cooperation.

Inspector

We want to provide all of the things our city needs," said Mitchell, "but we want to provide them in a way that will give us the best value for tax monies expended. By economy, I do not mean dispensing with vital services. I and I also mean managing, planning and buying well."

The mayor recommended an annual inspection of the fire and police departments. He pledged his cooperation to the fire and police commission.

"I believe it will pay the city well," he said, "and will serve the best interests of the taxpayers by having an inspector check on construction work to see that it conforms to codes, ordinances and building standards."

Red Trade Mission Cannot Fly Flag

Tokyo — The Japanese government stood pat Monday on its refusal to give specific authorization to a communist Chinese trade mission to fly its flag in Tokyo. The reds said this meant the $196 million trade agreement with Japanese businessmen could not be carried out.

The Peiping government cancelled the pact yesterday because Premier Nobusuke Kishi's government refused to sanction a clause which would have authorized flying the red Chinese flag. Actually the only effect of the clause would be to give the Chinese reds a certain measure of official recognition, since nothing in Japanese law prevents flying the flag.

Peiping radio accused Kishi of double dealing and yielding to American and nationalist Chinese pressure. The nationalists contended that permitting the flag would have constituted recognition of the Peiping regime and broke off trade relations with Japan for a time over the issue.

Leavenworth Prisoners Hold Own Art Exhibit

Leavenworth, Kans. — Men who have more time than anything else are displaying paintings they created to speed the dragging hours.

It's the annual art show at the federal penitentiary. Warden C. H. Looney says 75 of the 400 inmates are displaying their work.

Thomas Hart Benton, Kansas City artist, judged the 150 pictures. Fahcy needlework and knitting also are on display.

"Many of our inmates have been nothing but failures all their lives," said Robert J. Kaiser, associate warden. "So if they can do something constructive here—be it a dolly or a hook rug—it's a form of success. We encourage it."

First Day in Office Hectic One for Appleton Mayor Clarence A. Mitchell

The First Day in Office was a hectic one for Appleton Mayor Clarence A. Mitchell. It started as he arrived at his city hall office, upper left corner, greeted his secretary, Miss Mabel Duwel, and was handed his mail. High point came at night, next picture at top, when he called his first council meeting to order. Part of the morning was spent, inspecting the S. Oneida street bridge relocation site with Director of Public Works Edwin J. Duszynski. Fred Novak, 932 W. Grant street, far upper right, a property owner with a problem, was a morning visitor. So was Post-Crescent Reporter James

Grand Chute Committee Opposes Incorporation

Discusses Means Of Consolidating School Districts

Members of the Grand Chute town study committee Tuesday night disclaimed any goal of bringing about incorporation as a village and discussed means of consolidating school districts and luring industry when it met with the town board.

Town electors voted to establish the committee at the annual meeting April 1. Purpose of the group was to study incorporation as a village, school district consolidation and a town planning commission.

Committee members agreed Tuesday that village incorporation was impractical in view of the time it would take to go through needed legal procedures.

Urges Cooperation

Town Chairman Arthur Lecker said he saw no reason for stopping the outward growth of Appleton by incorporating Grand Chute.

"We should try to get along with the city," he stated.

The group decided to write to Winneconne school authorities and the state department of public instruction for information on school consolidation. Winneconne unified its school districts several years ago.

"There are too many heads running Grand Chute schools... consolidation would mean one superintendent and one school board," John Timmers, a member of the study committee, declared.

Committee member John Stevens said consolidation would enable Grand Chute schools to buy supplies in large lots as a single purchasing unit. A unified school system could share a trained maintenance man, he said.

Junior high school students could be placed in a separate school building in a consolidated district, Stevens said. He also suggested classroom space for kindergarten and mentally retarded children.

More State Aid

Better school facilities mean more state aid, he stated.

Timmers said Grand Chute should pattern its municipal outlook after the town of Preble, on the east limits of Green Bay.

Preble, a highly urbanized and industrial area, has consistently refused annexation by Green Bay. The town recently voted against incorporation as a fourth class city.

"If the people of Grand Chute stick together, industry won't have any other place to go," Timmers declared.

He and Stevens agreed that sanitary districts are needed to attract industry and residents to the town.

Lecker said Grand Chute could cooperate with Appleton in sharing a common sewage disposal plant, as Preble does with Green Bay.

Town board member Bernard Tillman said industrial inducements should be given equal consideration with school improvements.

Tax Cuts Needed Now, Editor Says

St. Louis —(AP)— Immediate tax write-offs which would encourage industry to replace obsolete equipment are needed to whip the recession, says Editor George F. Sullivan of Iron Age magazine.

Sullivan told the 40th annual convention of the American Zinc Institute here "the current recession began in the durable and steel mill galvanizers are goods industry and that is the industry which must bring the nation back to prosperity."

Ralph C. Miller, Jr., of the sheet mill products division of Jones and Laughlin Steel corporation, said January shipments of galvanized steel were higher than in December, 1957, and are expected to pick up in the last half of this year. He urged producers to take a more aggressive attitude toward advertising their products.

More than 400 zinc producers attending the meeting.

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"

New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials for normal regularity.

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge. Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulks and moisteners may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs cramp and gripe the entire system. Of all laxatives, only new COLONOID gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).

(1) COLONOID moisturizes dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain. (2) COLONOID's unequalled rebulking action helps restore flabby colon muscles. (3) And COLONOID acts gently, on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the vital "mass movement" of your lower colon. COLONOID relieves even chronic constipation overnight; is so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy. And COLONOID won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or other food nutrients. Get COLONOID, today!

Officer Fined for Failing to Greet Negro Captain

Stuttgart, Germany — A Texas lieutenant who refused to shake a Negro officer's hand has been given an official reprimand and a $200 fine.

Franklin Potter, attorney for Lt. William B. Morton, 32, of San Antonio, Tex., said the punishment was meted out by Lt. Gen. Bruce C. Clarke, 7th army commander. The army confirmed Potter's announcement. Morton had been accused originally of conduct unbecoming an officer after he refused the outstretched hand of Capt. Carl J. O'Kelly of Tucson, Ariz., when O'Kelly arrived here last December.

The Pentagon ordered the charge against Morton dropped after his attorney argued there was no criminal offense involved. The matter then was turned over to Gen. Clarke for administrative action. Morton was accused of telling an enlisted man to say nothing about the handshake incident and of driving an automobile with an invalid registration.

Sees Increase in Missile Tests

Rochester, N.Y. — Rep. Keating (R-NY) said Monday the United States will be sending satellites and accurate missiles up in increasing numbers.

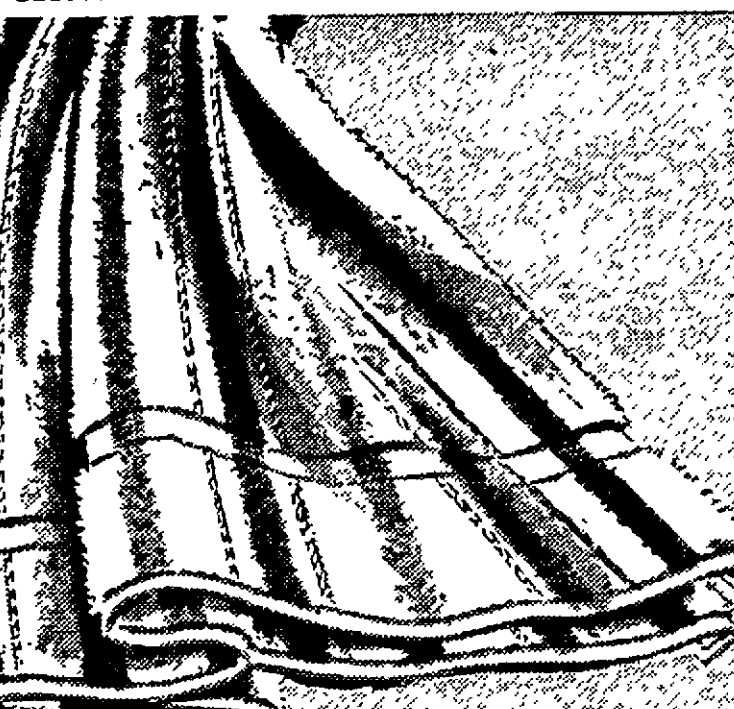

"They will have both military and scientific importance—neither is being overlooked

In this great effort," Keating told the national resources conference conducted by the industrial college of the armed forces. The congressman said he had just returned from an inspection tour of the Redstone and Cape Canaveral missile centers.

"The capacities of the testing centers are being expanded rapidly," he said. "Soon we shall be able to test as many as a thousand missiles a year at Cape Canaveral — at the rate of three a day." On his trip, Keating said he was impressed with "the feeling one got everywhere of urgency, yet efficiency, of dedication and capability."

State Political Shift Seen by Wyngaard

GOP Shows Fatigue, Newsman Says in Rotary Club Address

The compelling fact of Wisconsin politics today is a realignment of the political parties, John Wyngaard, a Madison correspondent, said in an address to the Appleton Rotary club Tuesday noon.

Wyngaard

"Days of easy Republican triumphs are over—as are the days of a weak Democratic party," Wyngaard declared. Factors contributing to changes in the political scene include political "fatigue" on the part of the GOP, he stated.

Fatigue in the Republican party, according to Wyngaard, has come from being in power for a long period. He noted that political parties often become careless and lose combative spirit when they become used to easy victories.

Wisconsin voters have responded to "time for a change" slogans on both state and local levels, Wyngaard said. He said he has observed a voter reaction against parties and politicians in power. He laid loss of a state supreme court seat by Justice Emmert Wingert and defeats of incumbent mayors in recent elections to the voter reaction against "ins."

Daylight Time Will Begin Here Sunday, April 27

All Clocks to be Set Ahead One Hour; Ends in September

Wisconsin and much of the midwest will go onto daylight saving time the last Sunday of this month, April 27. Fast time will continue throughout the summer and end the last Sunday in September.

All clocks will be set ahead one hour at 1 o'clock Sunday morning, April 27, pushing the time to 2 o'clock Sunday morning.

The one hour will be recaptured when clocks are set back again on the last Sunday in September.

Daylight saving time was voted into state law in a general referendum last year.

Over the country, a crazy-quilt pattern of fast time will dot the nation. Some states observe it. Some do not. Parts of other states will join in. Some will end in September and others in October.

Two Gifts of Art Slides Given To Lawrence

Two gifts of colored photographic slides have come to the Worcester art center in the last week, according to Professor Charles M. Brooks, who holds the chair of Myra Goodwin Plantz professor in art and architecture.

The National Gallery of Washington, D. C., recently notified Lawrence it was one of a selected group of institutions to be given a set of 500 original colored slides of the greatest works of art in the gallery's collection.

The second bequest came from the Frank and Janinia Petschek foundation of New York, for a lesser number of slides of Dutch, Flemish and German masterpieces.

Slides are used in all classroom work in art and architectural history, and the slide collection has been building for many years.

Hammond, Six Are Reelected To City Posts

Relief Director Survives Race of 5-Candidate Field

It took only two formal ballots Tuesday night for the city council to elect F. A. W. Hammond, 89-year-old city relief director, to another 2-year term despite indications of a council floor fight.

On that second ballot, Hammond received 11 votes, the minimum he needed for reelection, to seven votes for Walter Oesterich, 807 W. Spencer street, an Outagamie county jailer, and two votes for Raymond Kasky, 308 E. Glendale avenue, a case worker in the county department of public welfare office.

Hammond, who became relief director in 1936, garnered the needed 11 votes on the informal ballot, but lost two votes when the first formal ballot was taken.

On the informal ballot, Oesterich got five votes, Kasky two, and Miss Stell Brandt two. Oesterich had six votes on the first formal ballot, Kasky three and Miss Brandt two.

M. J. Fose, 1534 N. Nicholas street, failed to attract a vote on any of the ballots.

Last Term
Hammond, in reapplying for the post, said he has had a physical checkup by his doctor and was told there is no reason why he can't serve another two years. In any event, he said, this would be the last time he would apply.

Building Inspector Walter Bogan was the only one of the six other city officials seeking reelection who met opposition. He was reelected on the first formal ballot by a 17-to-3 vote, the same vote shown on the informal ballot. Fose received the other three votes both times.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Christiansen were reelected city home keeper and matron by a 19-to-0 vote on the only ballot taken. One ballot was blank.

Unanimous Vote
All others seeking reelection received unanimous votes on the only ballots taken. They include Street Commissioner Reinhold Schulze; Electrical Inspector Fred Volkman and Plumbing Inspector Reginald Glouemans.

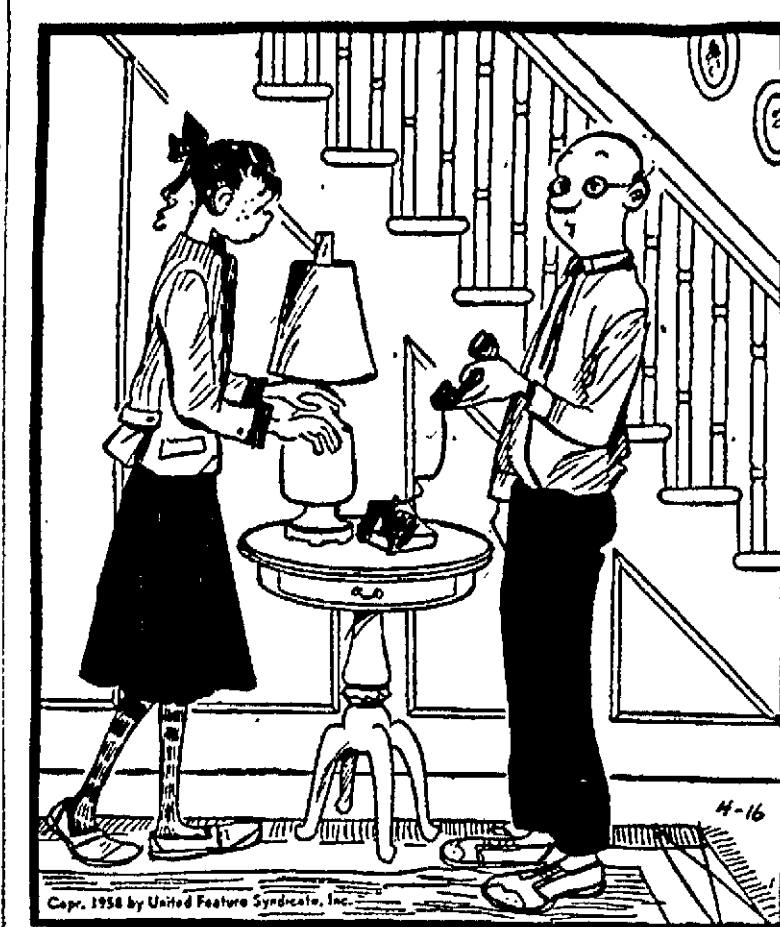

Mayor Clarence A. Mitchell announced the board of health will meet at 10 o'clock Thursday morning to pick a nominee for meat inspector. The board, under city ordinance, must pick the nominee and he must be a veterinarian associated with the national vets' organization. The problem is not too serious, he said, because city officials' terms, all for two years, start May 1.

The matter of appointment of a city health officer and physician was deferred. Ordinarily, election to that post would have been part of Tuesday's meeting, but Dr. William C. Felton has resigned and there were no applications to fill the job.

Gerhardt Files
Albert G. Gerhardt, unsuccessful candidate for Eleventh ward supervisor in the April 1 city election, Monday filed his statement of campaign expenses at the city clerk's office. He was the last to file. He listed expenses of $27.

Tucker New Alderman in First Ward

Austin N. Tucker, 47, 716 N. Superior street, Tuesday night was elected First ward alderman by the city council.

Five formal ballots were needed before Tucker received 11 votes, the minimum required for election. On that last ballot, his only rival, Edward W. Essler, former Fifth ward alderman, got eight votes.

Tucker, a service representative at Miller Electric Manufacturing company, Inc., was a justice of the peace and town board member in the town of York, Du Page county, Illinois, from 1939 to 1947.

He is married, has a son and a daughter in school and has lived in Appleton three years.

Led From Start
Tucker led the balloting from the initial informal ballot when he polled nine votes to four for Essler, two for F. John Harrison, 411 N. Clark street, a former 2-term alderman of the late 1930s, two for Gordon F. Schroeder, 124 W. Atlantic street, a newcomer, and one for Lee Jensen, 25, 107 W.

As a result of a previous request that a report on discipline be given to the board, all principals were present for the purpose of answering board members' questions and getting a clearer idea of the extent of the discipline report desired by the board. Discipline problems were cited by Elementary, Junior High and Senior High Principals.

It was the expression of the board that a report involving minor offenses was not necessary, but

The first formal ballot saw Tucker with 10 votes, Essler with seven and Harrison with two. The second ballot showed Tucker nine, Essler eight and Harrison two. On the third ballot, Tucker still had nine and Essler eight, but Schroeder and Harrison then split the other two votes. The fourth ballot maintained the same split, before the deciding fifth ballot.

Tucker was seated immediately. He replaces Clarence A. Mitchell, who was elected mayor April 1.

CITY OF APPLETON
OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION
March 31, 1958

The second regular monthly meeting of the Board of Education was called to order by the President, Mr. Harder, at 7:15 p.m. March 31, 1958 in the office of the Superintendent of Schools. Members present were: Messrs. Harder, Krueger, Jesse, Summitt, Tritt, and Mrs. Davis. Absent: Messrs. Schneider and Sutherland.

As a result of a previous request that a report on discipline be given to the board, all principals were present for the purpose of answering board members' questions and getting a clearer idea of the extent of the discipline report desired by the board. Discipline problems were cited by Elementary, Junior High and Senior High Principals.

It was the expression of the board that a report involving minor offenses was not necessary, but clearly that if it may be returned and the order cancelled. The Board of Education approved Mr. Melvin Klinger as the painting sub-contractor for the Madison Junior High School. Due to a misunderstanding on the part of Mr. Precour and Mr. Klinger, both Mr. Precour and Mr. LeVe are recommending James Squier and Son, of LaCrosse, as the painting sub-contractor. This office has many letters of recommendation pertaining to Mr. Squier on file. It is therefore recommended that the Board of Education give approval for Mr. Precour to engage James Squier and Son as the painting sub-contractor.

This office has in the past few months sent many reports to the Board of Education with respect to the 1958-59 salary schedule for the following personnel: Supt. of Buildings, Purchasing Agent, clerical workers, custodial and maintenance workers.

There is a possibility that the James Madison Junior High School will not be 100% complete on September 1, 1958. The recent progress chart indicates that certain work is approximately 3 or 4 weeks behind schedule. The Board of Education and other contractors will have everything complete prior to the start of school, however, should this not be possible, the Superintendent of Schools will notify the architect and contractors as to which portion of the building could be held in abeyance as not to interfere with the instruction program to any extent.

Mr. Krueger moved and seconded by Mr. Krueger that the above-mentioned low bids on various equipment for James Madison Junior High School be approved and authorization given to the Director of Business Affairs to purchase used shop equipment here it is deemed wise to do so. Carried on a roll call vote.

Mr. Jesse moved and Mr. Krueger seconded that those moveable items of kitchen equipment for James Madison Junior High School which will not be needed until a scheduled noon lunch program is adopted, be deleted. Carried, all voting aye.

Mr. Krueger moved and Mr. Davis seconded that the recommendation of the Director of Business Affairs to purchase used shop equipment be approved and authorization given to the Director of Business Affairs to purchase used shop equipment here it is deemed wise to do so. Carried on a roll call vote.

Appleton Post-Crescent

Wed., April 16, 1958

4. Ray Hamann, Principal of Kimberly High School, desires appearance before the board to discuss his tuition case.

5. The following recommendation from the Richmond and Foster Principals regarding transportation for next year is presented:

Because of the continuing expansion of the Southside of Appleton, especially at present to the south and east, we suggest that the school areas of Richmond, McKinley and Foster be considered as separate school districts and transportation furnished to those having to go so great a distance. We think these recommendations are in order and would keep the Southside line with transportation practices necessary in other areas of the city.

6. I recommend that Social Service be considered on the same basis as the other departments in the classification of base wage for a minimum of a Masters Degree, with six years of training in Social Service be $1,000.00.

7. Request of the Appleton Council of Religious Education for dismissal time to the Fifth and Sixth graders on Monday after school for the 1958-59 school year. The Council would like 2:30 p.m. dismissal time from school as well as having the parents meet at 1:55 p.m. for the twenty-five weeks, beginning soon after the opening of the school in September as will be the request for the school administration.

8. Letter from Mr. Henry J. Van Straten, County Supt. of Schools, requesting that the school boards from District No. 10 Grand Chute and the Appleton School Board be asked to agree upon the distribution of the assets of District No. 10 Grand Chute.

9. Request that Mr. Schenck be engaged to audit the high school activities books before the close of school.

10. Request for Head of Household stipend for Miss Annabelle Wolf, Mrs. Krueger and Mr. Summitt seconded approval of the Superintendent's Report, with the exception of item No. 3. Carried on a roll call vote.

Neither the Education Committee or Business Affairs Committee had a report.

Mr. Summitt moved and Mr. Summitt seconded that the date of the next board meeting be advanced to Thursday, April 10, 1958. Carried, all voting aye.

Further landscaping at the schools was discussed. Mr. Krueger moved and Mr. Krueger seconded that landscaping at the Washington School be postponed until another place is provided for the children as a play area. Carried, all voting aye.

The question of counting gym grades in the scholastic record at the Senior High School was discussed. The board recommended that Mr. Heible be invited to the next board meeting to explain this subject.

Mr. Summitt moved and Mr. Krueger seconded that the meeting adjourn.

Earl W. Harder, President.

CASE-O-MATIC CHALLENGE

OUR WORD IS OUR BOND. Many farmers saw the great new Case-o-matic tractors outperform competitive models in the recent WORLD PREMIERE film. Now! We challenge all competitive dealers to publicly compete with Case-o-matic Drive tractors in the following three tests, under actual field conditions.

DATE: Saturday, April 19

TIME: 2:00 P.M.

PLACE: Power's Farm

Jerome Schmidt, owner. 3 miles east of Kaukauna, County Trunk Z.

Winner will be the tractor capable of pulling the plow at the depth where the other failed.

TEST No. 2

ROAD GEAR PULL-POWER

Each contestant will attempt to start and pull a prescribed dead load in the highest forward gear. The winner will be the tractor capable of moving the load for a minimum distance of 25 feet.

TEST No. 3

TUG-OF-WAR

Contestants will be hitched back to back with a rigid 10-foot tow-bar. The tractor drawbars must be locked in fixed position and adjusted to identical heights. Separate Tugs-of-War will be conducted in comparable speeds starting with the highest and progressively shifting to the lower speeds until one or both of the contestants can no longer maintain traction.

These forms are available at my place of business.

RULE 2

All competitive tractors must be:

- a. Of equivalent tire size and type.
- b. Weighted for maximum drawbar performance within capacity specified by the respective tire manufacturers.
- c. Current standard production models operated at manufacturers' rated RPM.

NOTE: TO ALL FARMERS, CUSTOMERS AND COMPETING DEALERS . . .

The Case-o-matic Challenge is a fair test of tractor performance and efficiency. We sincerely believe that all farmers are interested in comparing farm tractor performance under normal field conditions. Therefore, any attempt by a contestant to deviate from the prescribed rules, or otherwise rig the competing tractor, or alter tests from normal operating field conditions will automatically void his eligibility.

Supervisors Want to Know More About 41

Won't Allocate Funds
Unless They Know of Relocation Details

Outagamie county supervisors today decided they wouldn't agree to allotting any state trunk highway funds now for the proposed Highway 41 and McCarthy's crossing.

They want to know just what the state has in mind for intersections with roads, driveways and school crossings along the route.

The state highway commission at a public hearing April 10 indicated the road is to be about 3-mile north of the present roadway, but this is tentative and the hearing was held to determine just where the route should be placed. At that time, the commission said no definite plans had been made for the road because its location was not certain.

Freedom Supv. Joseph Weyers said he thought there should not be any crossings. "If we're going to make a safe highway, let's make it safe now, not later," he added. Weyers said he couldn't see building the highway now and tearing it down in two to five years to build traffic interchanges.

Osborn Supv. Edward Potter told Weyers the state couldn't build some of the interchanges now because not enough money is available.

A Secret? The state asked the county to approve allotting $180,000 in state trunk highway funds now in reserve for the highway relocation, and $144,000 in current funds for the 1959 construction season. None of the funds are held by the county, since the state holds state trunk highway funds and no-funds the county what is being allocated for each county.

The state also ordinarily indicates which road the funds are to be used on, although the county must agree.

Center Supv. Harold Schmiedel asked, "Why is this highway such a secret — aren't there any plans?"

"The state has got plans for that road, you can be sure of that," commented Little Chute Supv. Paul Kostka.

Weyers said there was nothing definite about the highway. "The commission hasn't even decided definitely where to put it, so no plans can be made," he added.

The board, upon urging by Eighteenth Ward Supv. Sylvester Esler, decided to put off any decision until the May session when LeRoy Empey, Green Bay district highway engineer, will appear and explain the status of the relocation.

Council Orders
Special Parking
Unit Disbanded

The parking committee, one of three special committees which were part of the old city council, was disbanded Tuesday night by the new city council as it reorganized.

Ald. Mrs. Dorothy Stillings made the first move for disbanding. She wondered whether the committee functions—to recommend parking lot purchases, location of meters and purchase of meters—couldn't be handled better by the public safety committee.

Aldermen Homer Malmstrom, R. P. Groh and Charles Captain agreed with her, but Ald. Ervin J. Bogan took issue. Bogan said the committee was created originally to explore parking lot possibilities and the public safety committee has enough work without adding another burden.

Groh pointed out the safety committee already has jurisdiction under the rules.

Voting with Mrs. Stillings, Malmstrom, Groh and Captain for disbandment were Aldermen Clarence A. Lautenschlaeger, Douglas Ogilvie, Roy Pointer, Kenneth Priebe, Thomas K. Schneider, Austin N. Tucker, Allan Sonkowsky and Alvin Tews.

12-Year-Old Girl Admits Shoplifting

Police Tuesday turned a 12-year-old girl over to her parents after she confessed shoplifting six items from several downtown Appleton stores and being truant from school.

The girl stole a kerchief, head band, photo container, imitation flower, gloves and stockings. Her parents agreed to make restitution and return the stolen items.

The girl told the store manager who caught her that she was running away from home and needed the items.

Pointer, Hannemann, Schneider, Bogan Named Committee Chairmen

Aldermen Roy Pointer, Ervin J. Bogan, Thomas K. Schneider and Harold Hannemann were named chairmen of the city council's four standing committees Tuesday night.

The appointments, made by Mayor Clarence A. Mitchell and confirmed unanimously by the council, put the four aldermen on the board of public works, the council's most powerful study group.

The board of public works, the mayor, the city clerk, the city attorney and the director of public works.

Among its more important duties are to make recommendations for special assessments, land purchases and city contracts of all kinds.

Street Committee Pointer was named chairman of the street and sanitation committee. Other members of the committee include Aldermen Kenneth Priebe, William F. Ertl, Gerald Wagner and Robert Stumpf.

Bogan was named chairman of the finance (budget) committee. Other members are Aldermen Homer Malmstrom, R. P. Groh, Mrs. Dorothy Stillings and Donald Mueller.

Schneider was named chairman of the public safety committee. Other members of the committee are Aldermen Al. II. Stoegebauer, Alvin Tews, Douglas Ogilvie and Allan Sonkowsky.

Hannemann was named chairman of the welfare and ordinance committee. Other members of the committee are Aldermen Harvey Priebe, Sr., Charles Captain, Clarence A. Lautenschlaeger and Austin N. Tucker.

The four south side aldermen and Tews were named to the special south side swimming pool committee. They are Kenneth Priebe, Schneider, Stumpf and Hannemann. The committee is charged with finding a site for the proposed pool.

Tews and Harvey Jahnke, 608 E. Frances street, representative of labor, were named to the special industrial development committee, along with Malmstrom, Kenneth Priebe and Lautenschlaeger.

A vote to get the council to reconsider formation of the pool committee, instituted by Malmstrom, lost by an 18-2 vote when only he and Tucker voted for reconsidering.

Malmstrom took the position, after a chiding by Bogan, that the pool site problem more correctly was a problem for the welfare and ordinance committee, which is given jurisdiction over the swimming pool in the council rules.

Old Committees A question was raised by Mrs. Stillings about what the industrial development committee had done last year. Tews informed her the committee had advised the purchase of the 40-acre industrial park and Harvey Priebe, Sr., said a lot of information had been gathered by the committee.

The lineup of committees under the old council: Bogan was chairman of finance. Other members were Mitchell, Wagner, Pointer and Stumpf.

Groh was chairman of street and sanitation. Other members were Kenneth Priebe, Tews, Ertl and Captain.

Mrs. Stillings was chairman of welfare and recreation. Other members were Harvey Priebe, Sr., Mueller, John Schumacher and Harry D. Roubush.

Malmstrom was chairman of public safety. Other members were Hannemann, Stoegebauer, Schneider and Sonkowsky.

The mayor was chairman of the pool committee. Other members were Kenneth Priebe, Schneider, Ertl and Tews.

The mayor also was chairman of the industrial development committee. Other members were Bogan, Harvey Priebe, Sr., Stoegebauer and Tews.

New President Asks Council To Back Mayor

A plea for cooperation with the new mayor was made Tuesday night by the newly-elected president of the city council.

"I would like to ask all of us," said Ald. Alvin E. Tews, "to cooperate with him to the fullest extent as there are many problems facing us now and also in the future."

"I doubt that the people of Appleton are expecting any miracles," he continued, "but I am confident that we are capable of a city government which is based on good planning principles coupled with a sound policy of conservation and economy."

"I feel," Tews said, "that this should be our main objective in coping with rising costs and increased taxes."

Tews received 17 votes on the informal ballot and 18 on the subsequent formal ballot.

he called a spunk attitude about everything.

A reporter noted that Dean Acheson, secretary of state in the Truman administration, suggested yesterday that presidents of the United States ought not to attend international summit conferences. Eisenhower said there may be something to the Acheson view.

Later he added he thinks there is a very great deal in what Acheson said. Acheson took the position in a Kansas City speech that presidents should maintain a detached attitude and not become involved personally in attendance at heads-of-government conferences.

Ready to Attend

Eisenhower replied he has always felt that way about it, too.

But he said he always will be willing to take a risk and attend such conferences if he feels there is any chance progress could be made.

That, the president went on, is the only way to take a forward step.

The fall of French Premier Felix Gaillard's government last night should not have any adverse effect on the possibility of a summit conference, Eisenhower said.

As for bitter criticism of American policy in connection with the fall of that government, Eisenhower called such criticism a political gimmick. He said he knows of no justification for it.

Military Testimony

Eisenhower spoke as to what, in his opinion, top military officers should do if they feel in good conscience they cannot support the reorganization plan in public speeches and before congressional committees.

The president said he was talking about two quite different things in mentioning both public speeches and testimony before congressional committees.

When officers have a duty to express their views—such as before congressional committees, Eisenhower indicated—then they should speak their convictions.

But as for public speeches—propagandizing, as Eisenhower put it—that is an entirely different thing.

In any case which added up to public insubordination, he said, correction of the officer would be required. But he added that correction would not necessarily mean the officer should be thrown out of office.

Eisenhower was told that missile expert Werner von Braun says the army within a year may be able to shoot a man 150 miles into space and bring him back.

The reporter said the plan has been pending for three months and that there is now fear the Russians will beat this country to such a venture.

Asked about what he thought about it, Eisenhower replied that he had read about the matter in the newspapers. Then he said that before he answered further he wanted to put a question to the reporter, Carleton Kent of the Chicago Sun-Times.

Did Kent want to volunteer for the space mission, Eisenhower inquired, touching off a roar of laughter in the jammed conference room.

Taken by surprise, Kent replied he would if he could have some time to answer. The newsman then added that he understands volunteers already are available.

Model Plane Sets Endurance Record, Seeks Distance Mark

Van Nuys, Calif. —A "Big Breathless" new holder of the world endurance record for model airplanes, is going after the distance mark.

Ken Willard, builder of the plane, revealed his plans today.

The radio-controlled plane, with a 6-foot wingspread, yesterday flew 5 hours, 29 minutes. The old record of 3 hours, 6 minutes was held by Russia.

The distance record, set in Belgium recently, is 12 miles.

Willard, director of industrial research at University of Southern California, said he would make the distance attempt later this year when judges from Federation Aeronautique Internationale are available.

He said he plans to fly "Big Breathless" up the Pacific coast, controlling it from a speedboat. He said he hopes to set a record of 50 or 60 miles. He said the plane last year flew 29 miles to Catalina island on an unofficial test.

Tunisian officials had no immediate comment on the assembly vote, which came as the former French protectorate celebrated the end of the Ramadan month of fasting and what the Tunisians had considered President Habib Bourguiba's diplomatic victory over France.

Officials in Washington and London were openly apprehensive that the latest turn in France would force Bourguiba away from the west and toward President Nasser of the United Arab Republic. Bourguiba at the least was expected to return to the U. N. with a demand for international intervention in the Algerian rebellion, the root of his troubles with France and an issue perilous to the western alliance.

Gaillard had called the assembly back from the eastern vacation to discuss the good offices proposal. The session was stormy, and anti-Americanism ran so high that security troops were sent to guard the U. S. embassy. Both communists and rightists accused Gaillard of American domination.

The decisive vote came on Gaillard's effort to shelve five motions criticizing his policy. The young premier took the result as a vote of no confidence, although technically he could have held on for another 48 hours or so by demanding a confidence vote after the required waiting period. But the temper of the assembly indicated this would be futile, and Coty did not try to persuade Gaillard to stay in office.

As usual, however, Gaillard remains as head of a caretaker government until another premier is named.

West Sends Note on Pre-Summit Sessions

Moscow —A— The western Big Three today handed the Soviet foreign ministry notes believed to agree to the Russians' proposal that pre-summit diplomatic negotiations begin immediately.

The Soviet suggestion called for diplomatic talks in Moscow beginning tomorrow. A foreign ministers meeting would follow before convening of the heads of government.

The United States, Britain and France delivered their replies this morning. Disclosure of the contents was not expected immediately.

Diplomatic sources said the Big Three agreed to begin discussions tomorrow but suggested that a week's delay would be helpful.

Beware of Bad Manners! Often Indicate True Temperament

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: Our daughter who is a junior at the university, is interested in a young man doing graduate work. She invited him home for the weekend. We gave a small dinner party, buffet-style to introduce him to our family and friends. Both my husband and I were mortified by the young man's manners. The moment the food appeared he rushed over, heaped his plate and spilled things on the cloth. He didn't seek out anyone with whom to enjoy the dinner — just devoured it and got in line a second time. We saw him ask our daughter if he could get in line ahead of her, and we were shocked. The next morning when I mentioned this she became furious. She insisted that manners are superficial and unimportant. She claims he has a fine mind and excellent character which is all that counts. Comment, Ann, please.

O.L.G.

Manners ARE important because they are based on common sense and consideration for others. I refer to manners as behavior, and not which fork should be used or which name should be mentioned first in an introduction.

A man who would crash a buffet line and edge in ahead of his girl friend is a pig about food and guilty of more than just bad manners. He's putting the childish desire to gorge himself ahead of his consideration for others. Such self-indulgence indicates poor control.

Let's hope your daughter recognizes these symptoms for what they are. Manners can be an excellent index to the character and maturity of an individual.

DEAR ANN: If a mother-in-law is going to get a decent word said about her in your column, it will have to come from a reader. I am volunteering.

In the last several months, the mother-in-law has taken a terrible beating from your mail-bag. She's been portrayed as a snoop, a shrew, a domineering witch who's determined that her son shall never be free of her influence, or an over-protective hen who fights her daughter's battles, spoils her grandchildren and sticks her nose into everything.

My mother-in-law is an angel. She never makes one pie — it's always two, an extra for us. She phones at least once a week and volunteers to sit with the children so we can go out. (We never ask her.)

She has yet to voice an opinion if there is a disagreement in our family. Once when asked, she refused to be drawn into the discussion and said, "Settle it between yourselves. This is the privilege of every married couple."

Is it any wonder we love her? I hope you'll print this letter because there must be many wonderful mothers-in-law who don't fit into the word picture that your column portrays. — A LOVING DAUGHTER-IN-LAW

Dear Loving Daughter-in-Law: Thank you for your letter; I'm a member of your club, too. Perhaps the reason the mother-in-law usually comes out second best in this column is because we deal with problems. The people who write tell us what's WRONG — not what's right.

I attempt neither to put horns nor a halo on anyone's head. I call 'em as I see 'em . . . and may the devil take the hindmost.

DEAR BILL: You asked me not to print your letter — just the answer, so here it is:

Your ten-page dissertation on how to say "good bye" was a literary gem. In my opinion the romance is gasping for breath, and it doesn't matter whether you say adios, au revoir or so long. At this point you might just as well say "carbolic acid" — which means "goodbye" in ANY language.

Beauty Exercise Best Waist Whittler By Marian Matthews

Question.—Even with the new chemise, my bulge at the waistline shows. Can you tell me how to firm this area?

Answer.—Exercise is the best way to smooth the midriff and waistline to trim proportions. Of course your daily calorie count should be an honest one and suitable for your amount of activity.

To firm the midriff and waistline try this: Stand with feet several inches apart and arms stretched overhead and hands clasped together. Bend torso in circles swinging as far to the sides and back as possible. These directions are more difficult than forward which you will do easily. Practice good posture at all times for this can ruin even a slim figure in time creating a softness about the middle of the figure.

Get your figure into shape—never depend on the clothes you wear to hide real problems such as overweight!

Eyebrows Unruly Question.—My eyebrows are hard to tame probably because my hair is curly and they just do not lie flat enough to be attractive. Can you suggest a way to overcome this?

Answer.—Brushing your brows each day may guide them into a smoother line and a touch of oil or petroleum jelly added to the brush is helpful. When you apply make-up use mascara on your eyebrows and brush it in long sweeping motions from nose to temple area. Try to keep the effect natural—perhaps the use of a brow pencil would help for often eyebrows of your type have open spaces and a pencil filled-in helps.

Designing Woman

BY ELIZABETH HILLIER

Window Treatment Glorifies Bed

Those small windows high on the wall — they needn't look uneasily unrelated to what's below them as Mrs. F. L. L. says, "Lit-ture curtains way up there leave a lot of bare wall below the bed top," she writes, "and the bed has no headboard. Must we buy a headboard, or pictures for the wall or what do you suggest? And please advise me on how to make the curtains."

A headboard plus wall decorations, or big pictures or a high and wide grouping of smaller pictures would be effective, Mrs. L., but here's another idea you might like, and since you're about to make curtains, it should be easy. Make simple curtains with pinch-pleat tops to cover the windows and put them on a traverse rod so they can be opened to uncover the glass. Then add another rod, and longer curtains below them. Extend the rod if need be to make the curtains as wide as the bed and they will glorify it while they cover bare wall.

Mrs. M. A. P. "I intend to buy a new sofa and chairs and wonder what color they should be to go with the colors in our living-dining room now, and also with the new colors we'll change to later. The new wall-to-wall carpet is turquoise tone and I have cherry transition furniture. Walls at present are toast and the curtains have a small figure in beige, Later the walls will be painted turquoise like the rug and new curtains will be white with touches of turquoise." Nothing is prettier with turquoise than soft browns and beige and touches of white and brass or gold, so although the room would be rather brown at the moment, a soft brown for the new furniture, or brown for the new sofa and beige for the chairs is a good choice. Relieve the brown now with turquoise for pillows and use them with white pillows, too, or with both, beige and white ones, or use white. If possible, introduce some turquoise in other accessories now.

Mrs. P. C. "What color do you suggest for flooring, walls and woodwork to go with chartreuse chairs and a maple tag-lace? The room gets plenty of light from three windows. If I should decide on wallpaper, what colors for it?" Wallpaper is a good choice for the room that is sparingly furnished — it seems to furnish while it decorates. A smart pattern is shades of green and chartreuse and hyacinth blue would be attractive, and with a deeper blue and the woodwork an exact match to the wallpaper tone and I have cherry transition furniture. Walls at present are toast and the curtains have a small figure in beige,

The Mmes. Gordon Barden and Norbert Winkler were in charge of the evening social hour.

In Good Taste Chair Tilter Causes Woe To Hostess

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of my husband's who comes to our house quite frequently has a habit, when sitting in a straight back chair, to tilt it back so that all his weight is on the two back legs. This is definitely not good for our chairs and it bothers me whenever he does it, but how can I tell him about this without embarrassing him?

Answer: There is no reason why you cannot say to him, "Oh, please be careful! The legs of that chair are weak, and if they break you will surely hurt yourself." Then in the future try to have him sit on a chair he cannot tilt.

Postponed Reception Dear Mrs. Post: My fiance and I had planned to be married next month. It was to be a rather large wedding and reception. However, two weeks ago my fiance's father died and so of course a large wedding is "out." My fiance's mother does not want us to postpone the wedding, so we are going to be married very quietly with just our two families present. Would it be proper to have the wedding reception several months hence, or must we forego a reception entirely?

Answer: It will not be a wedding reception, but it can be one welcoming you and your husband back from a long wedding trip. Or perhaps if your husband is from another city it could be a reception for the purpose of introducing him to your friends.

Coat Courtesy Dear Mrs. Post: If a man doesn't make any move to help the lady he is escorting on with her coat, even though he is standing right there, could she hand him her coat and ask him to hold it for her? Might this implication embarrass him?

Answer: If he makes no attempt to help her with a heavy coat, it is entirely proper for her to hand it to him and say, "Will you hold this for me, please?"

Americans Expected to Feel at Home at Brussel's World Fair

Brussels — Americans who come to the Brussels World's Fair this summer will feel right at home.

It's obvious from the time you set foot in the airport that the Belgians have gone all out to become as American as the Iowa state fair. As you walk down the steps from your plane you are greeted by a bevy of pretty Belgian girls in smart uniforms—bright blue jackets, black skirts and black velvet berets—all of whom speak English and most of whom understand rock 'n' roll and Elvis Presley (although, believe me, I didn't ask 'em).

These girls help you through customs and advise you on where to stay—you can even go to a modern motel, if you like, and rent a car to drive to the fair on brand-new express highways as modern as the latest American turnpikes.

At the fair itself you'll find a glorified version of the age-old country fair—only here the nations of the world are competing for blue ribbons. Where, back home, farmer Jones would enter his prize pumpkin, here Russia enters her spunknik and Uncle Sam shows his favorite main street.

But there are merry-go-rounds and ferris wheels, and even babysitters for the convenience of touring American families.

When you order a chicken sandwich at one of Brussels' luxury hotels, they bring it with a bottle of catsup on the side—Belgians have been told that Americans are not happy without catsup. The coffee comes to a modern motel, if you like, and cream instead of hot milk.

At the United States pavilion, there's a continuous daily fashion show of strictly American clothes — from blue jeans to date dresses—modeled by mannequins from Paris and Brussels who have undergone a concentrated coaching to become "Americanized."

It seems the United States budget wouldn't stretch to cover the fees for American models, so we have trained Europeans to look, walk and talk American.

They expect a million Americans in Brussels this summer—more than turn out for the world series.

Whether they'll go back home proud of their country's showing in this contest of nations remains to be seen.

There are some who say that the United States hasn't been sufficiently aware of the tremendous propaganda value of a fair like this—after all, in addition to a million Americans, there will be a lot of people from a lot of other countries here, too — and that we should have spent more money to make an impression.

Beaux Art Ball, 1 of 3 Major Events Slated For College Weekend

Three major events are on the calendar at the Worcester art center at Lawrence college for the weekend.

On Friday evening, art students and members of the international club will combine forces to present the seventh Beaux Art ball, from 8 to 12 o'clock in the art studios. The motif is "Bizarre," and all dancers will come in fantastic costume which will be judged by the art faculty for the title King and Queen of Fools.

Chaperones will be Charles M. Brooks, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Dietrich, and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence D. Steefel of the art department and Dr. William A. Chaney, advisor to the international club.

Student chairman of the dance are Richard Devine, Geneva, Ill., and Miss Lisl Neuman, 609 N. Lawe street. Committee members are Mrs. James Badner, 520 N. Memorial drive; Jon Rasmussen, Chicago, Ill.; Dennis Ode-kirk, Port Edwards; Betty Kuether, Kiel; Victoria Chung, Panama City, Canal Zone; Peter Saecker, 414 N. Union street; and Carol Voll, 727 E. Franklin street.

Illustrated Lecture
Second event of the weekend will be an illustrated lecture given by James Watrous, head of the art history department at the University of Wisconsin, at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon for the Lawrence art association and townspeople.

Dr. Watrous' subject is "Modern Mosaic Murals in Contemporary Architecture," and it will be illustrated with colored slides.

One of Watrous' works is in the Wisconsin painters collection at the art center, having been purchased by the Lawrence art association in 1950. It is a small oil entitled "The Quartet," and inspired by the Pro Arte Quartet of the University of Wisconsin. Although there is no attempt at portraiture, the quartet's left-handed first violinist is so portrayed.

The painter was born in Winfield, Kan., and holds the B.A., the M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Wisconsin, where he has been on the faculty for a number of years. He has painted a number of murals, has had one-man shows at the Milwaukee Art Institute and the University of Wisconsin, and is represented in the Gimbel Centennial Art collection. He has worked in several media, and has had his painting, sculpture, water color and prints shown all over the nation.

The lecture is open to the public without admission charge.

Film Classic
On Saturday and Sunday evenings, at 6:30 and 8:30 both evenings, the Worcester art center will be open for a Lawrence film classics presentation of the Russian movie "Grand Concert." The color film is a melange of the finest Russian music, ballet and folk dance performed by such leading Soviet artists as Ulanova, Lepeshinskaya and Pirogov.

The simple plot of a backstage tour is the setting for a concert of music and dance of Borodin's "Prince Igor," Prokofiev's "Romeo and Juliet," Glinka's "Ivan Susanin," and Tchaikovsky's "Swan Lake." Critics report that the film is not marred by political propaganda. The showings are open to the public for a small admission charge.

8 Broadway Plays Program for Hadassah Event
Eight current Broadway plays were discussed by Mrs. Fred Marshall at the annual vocational education luncheon of Appleton chapter of Hadassah Tuesday afternoon at the Moses Montefiore Social center.

Mrs. Marshall, who spoke on "Broadway in Review," touched on the following productions: "My Fair Lady," "Time Remembered," "Dark at the Top of the Stairs," "Garden District," "Two for the Seesaw," "Romanoff and Juliet," "Look Homeward Angel" and "Music Man."

A group of 45 attended the benefit event which is given yearly by the women's group to raise funds for the career training of young Israel immigrants to aid in their adjustment in their new homeland.

Committee members comprised the Mmes. Herman Krause, Neenah, Eli Fielkow, James Zussman, Gilbert Silverstein and Louis Blinder, all of Appleton.

YOU MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS AND NOT KNOW IT!

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often tell-tale signs of Pin-Worms. . . ugly parasites that medical experts say infect one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it. To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do . . . and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily. Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge . . . the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

Freedom Fire Fighters Save Farm Home

Freedom—The roof and attic of the Don Giessel farm home, route 4, Appleton, were damaged by fire about 8:45 Tuesday night.

Fire Chief Ed Vandenberg, of the Freedom fire department, reported volunteers worked an hour and a half saving the rest of the house. There was about $3,000 damage, he estimated.

A passing motorist called the fire department. No one was home at the Giessel farm when the fire was noticed, but earlier in the evening Giessel had been soldering in the attic and, according to Chief Vandenberg, a hot soldering iron apparently was the cause of the fire.

Twenty-one volunteers responded to the alarm. Chief Vandenberg reported two grass fires during the weekend. At 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon the department fought a fire at the Ted Bernetzke farm, route 3, Appleton, and at 12:45 Sunday afternoon a fire at the Peter Green farm, route 1, Kaukauna. The chief said from 18 to 24 firemen reported for each alarm.

Life in India Explained By Beta Phi Alpha Speaker

Alumni of Beta Phi Alpha sorority learned about life in India at a meeting Monday night at the home of Mrs. Paul Kauth, route 3, Kaukauna.

Guest speaker was Mrs. Cynthia Delhalle, London, England, who spent two days visiting Miss Caroline Kauth. The guest met Miss Kauth while the latter was an exchange teacher in England two years ago. Both Mrs. Delhalle and Miss Kauth roomed at the same home in London.

Mrs. Delhalle recently completed a 9-month study of conditions in Bengal, India. She is an economist and statistician and while in India was employed by the Chamber of Commerce of Bengal.

Caste System
The guest speaker told of the caste system in India which made it difficult for the higher caste to get jobs as menial work could be performed only by the untouchables. She told of the number of servants it was necessary to have since only certain classes could perform certain types of work. She spoke briefly on the educational systems in India saying one of every three boys was able to get an education whereas only girls from very wealthy families were educated. Mrs. Delhalle told of the filth and poor living conditions in India and said for a 3-month period the temperature was about 109 degrees during the day and fell only about 10 degrees at night.

Mrs. Delhalle stopped in Germany and Calcutta after leaving London on Feb. 9, 1957, and after leaving India she stopped at Australia, New Zealand and Hawaii before coming to the United States. She stopped in Kaukauna for a few days before leaving for New York and the return trip to London.

The next meeting of the sorority will be a May 26 dinner at Tony Wonders' club which will conclude the season's activities.

The Family Council

Selection of Baby's Name Up to Parents, Not Other Relatives

Editor's Note: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, a newspaper editor, a women's editor and two writers. Each article is a summary of an actual case history. The Council reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and counselors.

Martha S.—I don't want to name the baby after my parents.

Mrs. F. G.—She doesn't care about our family's feelings.

Martha S.—I have been married two years and am to become a mother in a few months. Both my parents died while I was still a child and I was brought up by one of my aunts.

My problem is the naming of my baby. Under ordinary circumstances, I would name a girl for my mother and a boy for my father. But my mother-in-law is a very superstitious woman. She has begged me not to name a child after my parents because they had such short lives. She wants me to name him or her after long-lived members of her own family and my husband goes along with her on this.

My mother-in-law has been so good to me — like a real mother — and I want to please her, as well as my husband. I feel if my parents were alive they would understand and forgive me. I told both my mother's and father's families what I plan to do and they are in an uproar.

Mrs. F. G. — Naturally our family is furious. How can Martha be so callous toward her mother's memory that she is willing to forget her when she names her child?

This mother-in-law of Martha's is a stupid, uneducated, superstitious woman. Why should she get her own way just because she has the nerve to make such a request? I have brought Martha up like my own child, but she doesn't have enough respect for me to listen to me in such an important matter.

We all suspect Martha has been influenced by this woman's superstitions. She is too intelligent a girl to accept such beliefs. Yet she seems ready to bend herself any way at all to please her mother-in-law and her husband. She seems to have no thought for the feelings of our family, after all we have done for her.

If she gives in to this thing, she will regret it all her life. She must have some feeling for her parents.

The council: Martha seems to have thought out her position quite clearly. It is possible that she has been somewhat affected by her mother-in-law's superstition, but even if this is the case, she has a right to be guided by whatever feelings she has developed in this matter.

Martha feels her own parents would understand her attitude if they knew the problem and both her mother's and father's families ought to try to give her the same understanding that would get from her parents. They are being unfair in putting this unpleasant pressure on a mother-to-be. They are blighting her happiness by putting an unnecessary burden of guilt on her.

The naming of a baby really concerns only the mother and father, and if Martha and her husband have reached a satisfactory agreement, nobody has the right to interfere or to question the basis of their decision.

Trucker Denies His 19th Traffic Offense in 2 Years
A New London trucker Tuesday denied his 19th traffic offense charge in the last two years.

Grant D. Scheller, 25, route 2, New London, said he did not operate his truck in excess of the authority granted him by the public service commission and posted $8.20 bond for trial May 7 in municipal court.

Scheller, who does general hauling, has been convicted three times for speeding, four times for no registration, twice for no authority to haul, once each for safety responsibility, muffler violation, no contract license, ignoring a traffic signal, over truck width limit and failing to maintain adequate tail lights and three times for weight violations.

Scheller's last appearance in municipal court was March 26, when he was fined $306.80 for weight violations.

the highway department. Fischer at that time indicated he would present other charges to the executive committee.

On March 17, Fischer arrived for a hearing with the executive committee carrying a tape recorder. He told the committee the main issue to be investigated was the proposed purchase by the county of a hot asphalt mix plant.

However, Counsel Raymond Dohr and members of the committee told him such matters were policy established by the county board as a whole, not the executive committee, the highway committee or the highway commissioner.

Fischer then again charged Brownson had told Joseph Coffey, county garage superintendent, not to buy from Schreiter's. Coffey denied this before the board.

Coffey, called before the committee and Fischer, related the actual statement made by Brownson was, "Hold up a little until I see, but if you need something, get it."

The committee, examining highway department records during the period Fischer said Brownson forbade purchases from Schreiter's, found the county bought $388.38 worth of auto parts compared to $411.15 in the same period last year—a reduction of $22.76.

Worked Full Time
Fischer also charged a highway department employee working part-time had been granted sick leave.

However, the committee found the employee in question had worked full-time for about seven months and part time for nearly two years. Since no firm policy on granting sick leave was in existence, the executive committee said the decision could not be considered erroneous.

Since the meeting with Fischer, the highway committee has informed the executive committee its rules on vacations and sick leave were revised and clarified, taking effect Jan. 1, 1958—before the inquiry occurred.

Fischer also charged Brownson and Coffey used county vehicles for private purposes. The executive committee indicated Brownson and Coffey continued practices established many years ago and both had private cars for their own use in addition to county vehicles.

However, after a meeting with the executive committee, the highway committee established a rule preventing use of county vehicles for private purposes.

Commenting on Brownson's remark to Coffey about purchases from Schreiter's, the executive committee declared no changes in policy should be made by an employee, an elected representative or county officials unless such a change has the prior approval of the committee concerned with the department.

The executive committee indicated its meeting with Fischer was a preliminary hearing to determine if a special investigation should be held.

The report was signed by Board Chairman Alvin Fulcer and Supvs. George F. Miller, Emmett Root, John Fuhrman and Harry Cunningham.

Fischer did not attend Tuesday's or today's board sessions.

7 Aldermen Favor Plan

Council to Study Possibility of Attorney Handling All City Boards

Menasha — A committee will be formed by Mayor R. G. DuCharme to study whether or not the city attorney should handle all city business, including the legal work of all boards and commissions.

The council, by a 7-3 vote Tuesday night, approved Ald. Gordon Schanke's motion that a committee be established to study the feasibility of the city attorney taking over the legal work of all city departments. Schanke made the motion after Fourth ward Ald. Edward Stinski brought the matter to the council's attention during the election of a city attorney. Stinski said he favored a city attorney for all commissions and boards and not just city council and officials.

When Stinski asked if the election of the attorney could be done some other night he was told by Mayor R. G. DuCharme that he was out of order since the council had already adopted a resolution to elect city officials.

Lot Of Work
Schanke said he realized it would take a lot of work to determine just what duties a part-time attorney could handle. Ald. Lee Rather said he was at a loss on how to vote on the motion. "However, I can't see anything wrong in appointing a committee to check the facts and report back to the council," he told the aldermen.

Mayor DuCharme informed Schanke the city attorney now represents all the boards in the city except the water and light board. City Atty. William Giese handles the water and light commission has the authority to elect its own legal adviser.

"To handle all the city departments would be a pretty tremendous task and very time consuming. If the water and light commission were included in the attorney's work, the job would have to be put on a full-time basis and a considerable salary would have to be paid," Giese advised.

Voting against the measure were Second ward Ald. Thomas Coughlin; First ward Ald. Paul Laemmrich; and Fifth ward Ald. Fred Rohloff.

Given Extra Member
The general accounts and taxation committees were increased to six members each. These committees were good training ground for new members to become familiar with the county organization, even though these committees do not have as frequent meetings as others.

In clarifying its own rules the board decided that members must vote either for or against a resolution or motion if they are present at the session and cannot vote "present" to avoid either an "aye" or "nay" vote. This passed by a 33 to 15 vote. Committees will not be allowed to meet during the time the board is in business session unless given approval by the board for such a meeting. At times in the past, important business would be held up because some committees would be in session during a business meeting of the board.

Neenah — Economy, courtesy and full public information on the city's business are among the aims of Chester S. Bell, the new mayor told members of the city council at that body's organizational meeting Tuesday night.

Bell also listed a new police station, increased junior high school facilities and long-range planning as pressing problems of his administration.

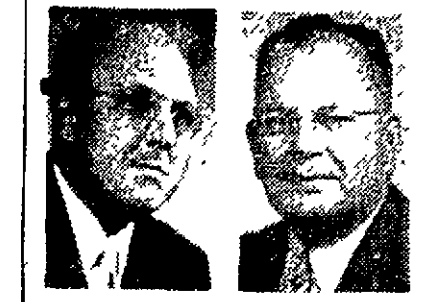

"We are elected, I believe, because the people felt we would work faithfully to give them a careful economical administration," Bell told the council. "They expect us, I am sure, to examine all aspects of the city's operations, to avoid any unnecessary or extravagant expenditures, and to make sure that the city receives one hundred cents of value for each tax dollar spent."

Bell also said "We must listen courteously to our fellow citizens when they bring us their suggestions, requests and complaints. . . . It is our responsibility to decide each question in accordance with our honest judgment as to the welfare of all the people. . . . When we can not accede to a request, the citizens should understand we have given the

Menasha Raises Fee or Keeping Neenah Prisoners

Menasha — The fee for keeping Neenah prisoners in the Menasha jail was raised from $3.50 per day to $5 because of increased costs since the original rate was set four years ago.

The council approved the increase, a recommendation made by Police Chief Peter Clark. Clark told the council he usually lacked room for his own prisoners and maintenance costs had gone up considerably.

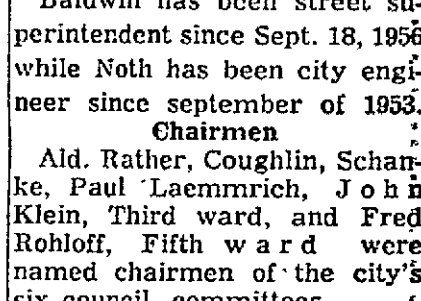

Mayor R. G. DuCharme said eight votes on the informal ballot with Justice of the Peace Allen B. Adams getting one vote and one ballot was blank. Menasha does not feed the Neenah prisoners.

The new costs will go into effect with Giese gaining the backing of May 1.

Murphy Elected — Murphy, however, was named to the city waterworks commission by the council. Ald. Peter Fara, Third ward, was also named to the waterworks commission.

Sanders was chosen council president after one informal and two formal ballots. He defeated Aaron Dix, Fifth ward; Hauser, Loehning, Dr. Hildebrand, Schaller and Fara were elected unanimously to their respective positions.

Young was named to the plans commission only after five formal ballots were taken. The major contender for the post was Dix.

Former Ald. Ray Murphy was named to the waterworks commission over Paul Zimmerman, a Marathon division chemist. He succeeds Ald. Paul Hansen who resigned his post when he was elected to the council.

Zimmerman's name was suggested to Mayor Chester Bell by Hansen and Finn Martin of the commission. Bell passed along the name to the aldermen. In an informal ballot Zimmerman got seven votes and Murphy three. Each had

The board agreed to release the land because the area seemed best financially and geographically for a school. Since the land was being taken from the park areas, the board asked the council to buy additional property in expanding areas to take care of future park and recreation purposes.

The school board Monday night approved construction of a school on the playground and to convert Butte des Morts Grade school into a 3-year junior high school by construction of an addition.

A contract for the repair of the Menasha ball park grandstand roof was awarded to Gallagher Roofing company for $165.

matter thoughtful attention, and have sound reasons for our decisions.

Full Information — "And further, the public is entitled to full information as to our activities," the mayor said.

On current matters the new mayor said "One of our first projects must be to provide an adequate police station for our faithful police force. The recent referendum does not permit us to put this matter aside indefinitely. Our public protection committee should give this prompt attention and press vigorously for a proper solution."

At the moment the junior high school problem lies with the board of education, "but I feel sure it will be in our laps before long," Bell said. And in order to work out proper financing when a definite plan is decided upon, we shall have to study our other programs to see which, if any, can be stretched out sufficiently to leave room for the junior high school financing.

The matter of long-range planning will require careful consideration soon, he said. "The extent of Neenah's participation in the regional planning program must be decided in the next few months—whether we join in the employment of a professional planning group, or retain a separate planning firm for ourselves, or get along without professional assistance."

City to Spend $1,450 on July 4 Celebrations

Cut $500 From Jaycee Request For Free Acts

Neenah — The council voted Tuesday night to participate in Neenah's Independence day celebration to the tune of $1,450. The figure is $500 less than had been requested by the junior chamber of commerce, which is running the annual July 4 festivities and Venetian parade.

Ald. Warren Sanders and Harold Young held out for the $1,950 asked by the Jaycees, the sum that had been given in previous years, but the other eight aldermen overruled them.

The $1,450 is to include $950 for fireworks displays and a $500 contribution to the Jaycees for the Venetian parade. The $500 which was cut was to have gone for free acts spaced out through the holiday afternoon.

Sanders said that over $6,000 was spent on various celebrations in 1957, including numerous additional Christmas decorations. The budget this year calls for $4,500, of which only about $400 has been spent. A $1,950 expenditure would leave slightly more than $2,000 for the annual police department "Halloween" party and Christmas decorations this year, Sanders said.

Chamber Letter — In other action the council filed a letter from Leon H. Tolversen, chairman of the Neenah planning committee of the chamber of commerce, Tolversen, leader of a chamber fight to defeat a $270,000 police station bond issue referendum two weeks ago in order to make way for a professional plan for the city, re-emphasized the need for both a new police station and a plan and said that the chamber would cooperate with the council toward the attainment of both.

A special committee was appointed by the mayor to study the possible revision of the council rules of order. Sanders is chairman of the committee, which also includes Ald. James Dinius and Leonard Hedberg and City Atty. Charles Schaller. The rules of previous councils were adopted temporarily by the new council.

Before adjourning the council granted sidewalk builders licenses to Home Lumber and Millwork and Albert Johnson Concrete Floor Service, both of Neenah.

Inadequacy of Foreign Policy in Middle East Is Discussed by Club Speaker

Neenah — United States foreign policy in the Middle East, "hottest spot in the cold war," was discussed by Miss Lisa Sergio Tuesday afternoon for the Woman's Tuesday club at the Boys Brigade building. Miss Sergio, New York City, lecturer, news commentator, writer and editor, recently returned from a four month trip through the Middle East and Europe.

The peoples of the Arab world are determined to unite, they are going to do so regardless of what the powers of the West think, said Miss Sergio. "They want to form a neutral block."

"It is hard for us to believe people can remain between the West and Soviet sphere," commented Miss Sergio. "We think if they aren't with us, they must be against us," she said warning "this is one of the things that has put us out of world leadership."

She further explained we think if people are not committed to us, they must be communists, not realizing that there are other things besides being either communist or pro-American.

Arab Trends
Another trend in the Arab world in addition to unification is "an overwhelming desire to move the people forward in modern ways of life," said the speaker, a native of Florence, Italy and now an American citizen. She said the discrepancy between the very small wealthy class and the enormous class of poor people in this area is shocking.

Because suspicions exist that these countries might want to join the Arab block, our country gives money to pro-American governments, which are staying in power only because we give them money, said the speaker. "The sooner we face up to the reality of what we are, the better we will fare," stated Miss Sergio.

We talk about the right of all peoples to be free and equal and these inspiring statements lead people to throw off their bonds and shackles, pointed out Miss Sergio. When they do so, we are terrified of their freedom, she said. "We lack the vision," criticized the speaker.

In discussing our foreign policy in this area, Miss Sergio pointed out "when you do something right, but at the same time have to pay someone else not to oppose you, you are weakening your position." The time has come to know our power is not to be calculated in atom bombs and tests, she said, pointing out the Russians test bombs but at the same time handle economic aid in an intelligent way.

Diplomats
Our foreign policy suffers with each election, when there is a complete change of top diplomatic personnel, said Miss Sergio. "Our ambassadors are political plums." She said countries have no assurance that our policy will be the same four years later. This is not true of other countries, said the speaker, who was the first woman commentator in Europe. "Their diplomatic corps is made up of experts." We are the only country putting diplomacy on a political basis, she said.

Two wars have made us too rich, too soft and too drunk with power to come back to the fundamental moral values that made us great, she warned. Time is marching on for the Arabs, said Miss Sergio, but we can lead them on to the things they want to believe in, if we want to do so.

May Need Change In Washington, Wilson Boundary

Neenah — Boundaries between Wilson and Washington schools may have to be altered in September to balance the load, it was revealed Monday.

A list of tentative enrollments showed that 73 youngsters probably will be in the Wilson school first grade next year, and 42 in the same grade at Washington school.

Under consideration is a plan to change the boundary for first graders from an imaginary line between Division street and Laudan boulevard to Laudan boulevard. If the split-block line is moved half a block south, 10 youngsters would automatically be moved from the Wilson area to the Washington area.

The school board stressed that this idea is not definite and that actual enrollments in September may change.

However, if this plan is accepted, it would mean two First grades of 31 and 32 pupils at Wilson and two of 26 pupils each at Washington. If the present boundary remains, a combination first and second grade room may be necessitated at Wilson.

Holy Name Members Plan Breakfast For Mother's Day

Winneconne — Plans for a Mother's day breakfast on Sunday, May 11, were made by Holy Name society members at their meeting last week. A large group expressed a desire to attend a retreat at Monte Alverno near Appleton during the first weekend in May and tentative plans for another during October were made.

A schedule for members to serve as ushers during the summer months was prepared and new members were briefed preparatory to being invested at the 7:30 service Sunday morning.

Ben Malson instructed those interested in softball and refreshments were served.

Police Officer to Discuss Traffic

Neenah — Traffic and parking problems in Neenah will be discussed by Capt. Henry Kohfeldt of the Neenah police department with members of the Neenah Rotary club at the club's Thursday noon meeting at the Valley Inn.

Zephyrs Turn Back Brillion Lions 4-3 On 7th Inning Tally

Score Final Run on Error; Steger in Fine Relief Ball

BY HERB VAN DRIEL
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Menasha — St. Mary tallied a run in the bottom of the seventh inning without a hit to break a 3-3 tie and cop a close 4-3 win over Brillion in its 1958 baseball opener at the Sixth street diamond Tuesday afternoon.

With one out, Tom Hildebrandt walked, took second on a passed ball and advanced to third on a wild pitch. He tallied the winning run when Brillion shortstop Noel Zander bobbled Bill McGinnis' ground ball.

The initial victory was highlighted by the clutch twirling of junior Bill Steger. The classy right hander relieved starter Tom Balhazor with one man on and no outs in the fifth inning and chucked three hitless, runless frames.

Of the 10 batters Steger faced, he struck out six and only one man reached first base, by a walk. The Zephyrs were behind 3-1 when Steger, who got the win, took over.

While the Zephyrs outthrew the Lions 4-4, all their runs were scored as a result of Brillion errors. In all, Brillion committed four miscues to two for St. Mary.

Brillion took an early lead with two runs in the first inning on a hit, a Zephyr error and two bases on balls. Fred Hillman and Gary Moore scored the runs.

Zephyrs Score

St. Mary came back with a single tally in its half of the inning when Dave Unmuth led with a single, advanced to second on a steal, moved to third on Tom Hildebrandt's ground out and scored when Al Krahn, Brillion pitcher, threw wild to first on Bill McGinnis' grounder.

The Lions made it 3-1 in the second inning when Bob Hansen, who relieved Krahn with one out in the first, tripped to deep center and was knocked in by Hillman's one-bagger down the right field line.

Unmuth and Hildebrandt each crossed home plate in the fifth to knot the score at 3-3. Hildebrandt batted in Unmuth while McGinnis' single scored Hildebrandt.

Hansen Gets Loss

Krahn faced five batters in one-third an inning, giving up one run, one hit and two walks. Hansen, who went the rest of the way and was losing pitcher, was charged with five hits and three runs. Hansen also struck out seven and issued two free passes.

Balhazor hurled four innings, giving up the losers' three runs and four hits. He recorded five whiffs and four walks during his stint.

Rockets Stopped Without a Hit; Lose Opener to Oshkosh

Drop 6-0 Verdict; Kaul Puts Down 12 Batters in 4 Frames

Oshkosh — Oshkosh hurlers Pete Kaul and Gary Johnson set Neenah down without a hit as the Indians blanked the Rockets 6-0 in the baseball opener for both clubs here Tuesday afternoon. Three Neenah pitchers, Marv Carlson, Gene Gries and Don Bemowski, were knocked for only six hits but the Rocket fielders committed six errors to aid the Oshkosh cause.

Only two Neenah hitters reached base. Kaul worked the first four innings and set the order. Six of the outs were on strikeouts.

Stranded on Third

Johnson pitched the final three sessions and walked one and another hitter got to first. Carlson walked to open the fifth. He was sacrificed to second by Bemowski, took third on Tom Syring's infield out and died there when Kaul, who moved to left field, made a dandy one-handed catch of Kent Simerson's long fly ball. It was the only ball that went into the outfield.

In the seventh with one out, Gries reached first when shortstop Bob Bucholtz bobbled his ground ball but remained there as Carlson whiffed and Bemowski grounded out to end the game.

Tally Twice

Oshkosh scored twice in the first inning off Carlson on hits by Tom Copp and Dick Boese, a passed ball, a walk and Jim Schuereman's double.

Gries took over for Carlson in the third and although he had runners on base in the third and fourth he escaped without a run. In the fifth, the Indians got two more runs on a walk, a hit (a bunt by Paul Poeschl which squeezed home a run) and two on Bemowski's work the seventh and was clipped for two.

43,339 Watch Pirates Edge Braves in 14-Inning Opener

2 Mathews Homers Go To Waste

Milwaukee — (AP) — For the second time since the Braves moved here from Boston in 1953, Eddie Mathews belted two home runs in an opening-day game. And for the second time, the Braves lost.

The last time Eddie staged a 1-man slugging exhibition was on opening day in 1954 when the Braves lost to the Redlegs at Cincinnati, 9-8.

Tuesday before a near-capacity crowd of 43,339 at County stadium the Pittsburgh Pirates shaded the world champions 4-3 in 14 innings.

Rookies Apply Crusher

Out the window went the Braves' record of never having lost an opener—either home or season—in their own ball park. That loss to Cincinnati is the only one they've ever lost on the road.

Two rookies who never before had played in a major league game—R. C. Stevens and Ron Blackburn—applied the crusher Tuesday in a game that equalled a 35-year-old National league record for the longest opening-day contest. Brooklyn and Philadelphia set the NL record with a 14-inning 5-5 tie in 1923. New York and Brooklyn previously tied the mark with a 1-1 tie in 1933.

Stevens, who spelled big Ted Kluszewski for defensive purposes in the ninth, singled home the winning run with two down in the fourteenth inning. His victim was Gene Conley, the Braves' third pitcher. The hit saddled Conley with the loss.

Blackburn pitched shutout ball for three innings to gain credit for his first major league victory. The only safety off him was an infield chopper by Hank Aaron in the 13th. Curt Raydon, another of the Bucs' youngsters, squelched the Braves in the fourteenth to preserve the victory.

Two breaks that went against the Braves played a part in the final result.

Surrenders 12 Hits

No. 1 came in the eighth when Andy Patko, playing left field, and shortstop Johnny Logan got their signals crossed and let a high fly ball off the bat of Bob Skinner fall between them for a double.

Skinner completed the circuit on an infield out and a single by Roberto Clemente to tie the score at 2-2.

No. 2 came in the fourteenth inning when with two out and Dick Groat on second via a double Conley couldn't hold on to Skinner's hard hopper right back to the box. It went for a hit, Groat stopping at third. Stevens then delivered his game-winning single.

The Pirates scored once in the first inning off starter Warren Spahn, who left for a pinch hitter in the ninth after surrendering 12 of the Pirates' 16

The Braves' Johnny Logan is out on an attempted steal of second base in the fourteenth inning of Tuesday's season opener in Milwaukee. Pittsburgh second baseman Gene Baker is upset on the play but has put the tag on Logan. The umpire is Stan Landes. The vital play started as a hit-and-run, but batter Del Crandell missed. The Pirates won, 4-3. (AP Wirephoto)

Hortonville High '9' Tips Truckers, 6-5

Polar Bears Rally for 2 Runs In Last Half of Seventh Inning

Hortonville — A pair of errors on the same play in the seventh inning gave the Hortonville High school baseball team a tight, 6-5, non-league win over Clintonville here Tuesday afternoon.

Trailing, 5-4, going into the last of the seventh, the Polar Bears got Jim Steffen on base via a walk. Steffen stole second while Lon Kringle and Dennis Sommers were striking out and flying out.

Then, shortstop Bob Broehm slapped a 1-run single. When Broehm went for third on a hit-and-run play he was safe on a bad throw. The third baseman picked up the ball and fired it home, beating Broehm to the plate, but the catcher dropped the ball, ending the game.

Steffen started for the winners and hurled the first 5 and 2-3 innings before being relieved by Lon Kringle, the winner. Steffen allowed three hits, walked five and fanned six, Kringle gave up two hits, no walks and no strikeouts.

Dave Bohman, who pitched the final three innings for the Truckers, was the loser. Russ Huebner and Jim Petcka also took a turn on the mound.

Hortonville had taken a 2-0 lead in the first but the visitors tied the issue on Terry Lichtenberg's 2-run homer in the top of the second. Hortonville took a 4-2 lead in the last half of the inning but then Clintonville went in front, 5-4, in the top of the sixth.

Valley Fair Will Sponsor Team In Fox League

New Appleton Entry Replaces SSAC Nine

Appleton will field a Fox River Valley league team this season under the auspices of Valley Fair.

The league admitted the tenth and final 1958 entry Tuesday night in a meeting at Freedom.

The Valley Fair team, which will be field managed by Gene Kloes, replaces Appleton's South Side Athletic club which recently was granted a year's leave of absence. No business manager for the new entry has been picked.

Kloes announced that the SSAC field would be the team's home diamond but that it may play some games at Goodland field.

Oshkosh's Frank Schalupa was chosen as the umpire-in-chief.

The league voted to help promote a Fox Cities' 3-1 league game as a fund-raising project. The game chosen is the Fox Cities - Rochester clash of July 23. According to its announced agreement with the Foxes, the FRVL will receive 20 per cent of the gross ticket sales up to 4 o'clock the afternoon of the game.

The league will comprise these teams: Appleton Valley Fair, Menasha Macs, Little Chute - Kimberly, Freedom, Oshkosh, Reedsville, Harrison, Kaukauna, Two Rivers and Manitowoc.

Rookies Shine as NL Launches 1st Coast-to-Coast Season

Giants, Cubs Register Shutouts; Philadelphia Nips Cincinnati, 5-4

By The Associated Press

The rookies had themselves a day as the National league, now a coast-to-coast network, opened the 1958 season.

Three rookies ruined Milwaukee's debut before the majors' top crowd yesterday, 43,339, at County stadium.

4 Share Shutout

At San Francisco, rookies Jim Davenport and Orlando Cepeda showed few jitters at the plate while backing up veteran Ruben Gomez' 6-hit, 8-0 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Chuck Essegian and Ray Semproch were big guns as Philadelphia cracked Cincinnati, 5-4. And Dolan Nichols and Ed Mayer, though working but briefly, got in on a 4-pitcher shutout as the Chicago Cubs whipped the St. Louis Cardinals, 4-0, in the lone night game opener in either league.

Davenport, taking over at third for the Giants, singled twice, scored twice and drove in a run for the Giants, playing before a crowd of 23,448—all the Seals stadium can hold.

Cepeda hit a homer, a blast over the right field fence.

The Giants duplicated the Giants that opened in New York in 1957 only in Willie Mays playing center field. Daryl Spencer was the only other player starting both openers, but last year he was the second baseman and yesterday the shortstop.

Spencer blasted a homer from Gomez starting the game's only double play and also blasted the first home run of National league baseball in California—a fourth-inning drive into the left field bleachers.

Gomez fanned six, walked six

The Giants, having inaugurated major league baseball on the Pacific coast with a victory over Los Angeles right-handed pitcher in the day time, trying to repeat tonight against a lefty.

Alston Picks Podres

Manager Walt Alston named former World Series hero Johnny Podres (112-9 record last year) to start. San Francisco Manager Bill Rigney picked Ramon Montant.

Jim Brosnan was the winner at St. Louis. Nichols, Mayer and Don Elston all got into the act in the seventh to preserve the shutout.

The Cubs went to work early and piled up a 3-run margin in the first three innings as they chased Vinegar Bend Mizell. Tony Taylor's double and singles by Ernie Banks and Walt Morry gave the Cubs a 1-0 lead in the first.

Chicago scored two more in the third on Banks' single and a sacrifice fly off the bat of Dale Long. Another fly came in the ninth on Cal Neeman's homer.

Brosnan was in constant trouble because of wildness. In the fifth, St. Louis loaded the bases but the 28-year-old right-hander fanned Alvin Dark and got Stan Musial on a pop up and Del Ennis on a grounder to end the frame.

Musial Singles

In the seventh, the Cardinals had a runner on first with nobody out and when the count went to 3-0 on Eddie Kasko, Ed Nichols came in. He threw the fourth ball. Dick Mayer replaced Nichols and Stan Musial singled to load the bases.

Don Elston then relieved Mayer. Ennis struck out, Ken Boyer flied out and Wally Moon grounded out. The frustrated Cardinals stranded 14 runners.

The crowd of 26,246, a record for a night game opener at St. Louis, saw Stan Musial tie Mel Ott's total-bases record in the National league with a single in five trips for a total of 5,041.

Essegian, a rookie in left field, doubled twice, scored twice and drove in a run for the Phils, who blew a 3-run lead before finally wrapping it up before an overflow crowd of 32,849 at Cincinnati. Semproch, coming on after the Redlegs scored four in the sixth against Robin Roberts to gain the lead, pitched 1-hit, shutout ball the rest of the way.

A walk and singles by Wally Post, the former Redleg and Ted Kazanski got the winning run home in the eighth off reliever Bill Wight.

Harvey Buchanan To Quit State Athletic Body

Milwaukee — Harvey Buchanan of Superior, a member of the Wisconsin state Athletic commission since 1937, confirmed Tuesday night that he will resign later this month.

Recently appointed to the Wisconsin Great and Warehouse Commission for a 3-year term by Gov. Thomson, Buchanan said he will present his resignation at the next meeting of the Athletic commission, scheduled for Milwaukee April 29.

Thomson, who was attending the Pittsburgh Pirates-Milwaukee Braves baseball game, touched off speculation about Buchanan's future on the athletic body when he said he was expecting the resignation.

The governor refused to speculate on a possible successor.

doubles. Lyle Bailey's 3-run double in the first inning gave Marion a 4-0 lead and the Pigeons never again went behind. Righthander Jim Helgeson went the distance for the losers, striking out 13 and walking six. He gave up 11 hits.

Bonduel rallied for five runs in the seventh inning to put down Waupaca. With two out Dennis Bahr singled, Wayne Kroll rapped his second home run of the game, Jerry Senzig singled, there was a hit batsman and Pete Senzig rapped a 2-run double. Another run tallied on an error.

Kroll, who twirled the last 2 and 2-3 innings, was the winning pitcher, allowing no hits in his brief stint. Ken Rushford, the loser, fanned 12, walked three and allowed ten hits in going the route.

Scores 5 in 6th

'Wega rallied for five runs in the sixth for its triumph. John Zemple tripled, Tom Stolzman singled. Jim Paschke singled, Larry Kamp hit a 2-run double and Charlie Tews a 1-run single in the inning.

Left-hander Tom Stolzman went all the way for the victory, yielding seven hits, fanning ten and walking two. Righthander Ken Groholski gave up nine hits, whiffed eight and walked two for Manawa.

Amherst rallied from a 7-4 deficit with five runs in the sixth inning. John Guyant, who tossed the last five frames, was the winning hurler.

Is Tony Kubek Going Into Army? It's Anybody's Guess

New York — Is Tony Kubek, star Yankee shortstop, going into the Army?

Kubek says no. Maj. Gerald Mulrine of the U.S. Army says Kubek said yes.

George Weiss, general manager of the Yankees and Casey Stengel, field manager of the American league champions, don't know. Mrs. Anthony Kubek Sr., Tony's mother, is bewildered.

It all started Tuesday with an announcement in Milwaukee that Kubek, 1957 American league "Rookie of the Year," would join the Army May 24 for six months of training under the streamlined reserve plan.

Misses Opener

The Yankees are vitally concerned since Kubek was to be their regular shortstop, though he missed Tuesday's opening game in Boston because of a pulled muscle.

Kubek went on record Tuesday night that the report is "absolutely untrue."

"It's simply a rumor that began in Milwaukee. I can't understand what that major (Maj. Mulrine) is talking about," he said.

Kubek admitted he was thinking about going into the Army.

"But that's all. I am just thinking about it. After all if it is my decision to sign up, I definitely would not go during the baseball season. That wouldn't make sense."

Mulrine, commander of Milwaukee's southside Army reserve base said that there was no chance of a hoax and that he met Kubek and "talked baseball with him."

Mulrine said he made the announcement because "I thought it would be good publicity for the Army."

Kubek took his physical last Wednesday, Mulrine said, and went through all processing except the swearing in.

After the World Series last October the Yankees urged Kubek to join the 6-month program during the off-season and get his service out of the way. He said he preferred to wait and take his chances.

UW '11' Has Bit of Contact As Drills Open

Madison — Coach Milt Bruhn sprinkled a 2-hour workout with a bit of contact Tuesday as the University of Wisconsin's 90-man football team opened spring drills.

"We had a pretty good session and accomplished quite a bit," the coach said.

Except for a sample of contact the drill was devoted to conditioning exercises and organizing the offense which saw Sid Williams, a quarterback last year, working at that position and at halfback. He's expected to be running at halfback exclusively in the fall.

Others taking a turn at the signal calling job were Dale Hackbart, who is expected to win the position; Ron Adamson of Rockford, Ill., Francis Young of Sauk City and Dick Meunier of Peshtigo.

Yanks' Don Larsen Shuts Out Boston

Jim Bunning Beats Chisox; Ned Garver Blanks Cleveland

By The Associated Press

This may be a tougher, tighter American league pennant race as predicted by the managers, but at the moment, Casey Stengel is still pulling rabbits out of hats with his New York Yankees.

The defending champs had some pretty atrocious pitching during spring exhibitions. But Stengel figured it would improve, once the season started.

And most of the spring he had Jerry Lumpe playing third base, only to declare that "Andy Carey still is my man" when announcing his opening day lineup.

Gives Only 4 Hits

So what happened? Don Larsen, he of the weak arm this spring, gave up just four hits, got out of two jams on Carey's dandy fielding at third and shut out the Boston Red Sox, 3-0, Tuesday before a record Boston opening crowd of 35,223.

The Detroit Tigers, clumped with Boston and Chicago as contenders, snubbed their 7-19 exhibition record (worst in the majors) and defeated the White Sox, 4-3, before 28,319 at Chicago with the help of pesty Billy Martin.

Ned Garver shut out Cleveland, 5-0, on seven hits while Kansas City gave Herb Score a rough time in his comeback debut with the Indians that drew the AL's biggest crowd of the day, 35,307 at Cleveland. Baltimore ended Washington's stop at the top of the league, 6-1, before 34,377.

The AL openers drew 133,226 compared with 125,882 counted by the National league.

Willard Nixon, Boston's one-time Yankee killer, had the champs blanked on one hit, Yogi Berra's leadoff single in the second, for six. But then he walked Mickey Mantle, after getting an 0-2 count on the "Mick," in the seventh and Berra belted a homer. Bill Skowron and Carey followed with doubles for a 3-run inning.

The Red Sox again were without thumper Ted Williams, still recovering from food poisoning.

Three unearned runs, two on Sherm Lollar's homer, gave the White Sox a 3-1 lead in the third inning of the duel between Billy Pierce and Jim Bunning, the AL's only 20-game winners of last season. But after the Tigers tied it, Bunning's second double chased Pierce in the seventh and Martin, who had fanned three times, singled him home with the clincher off Ray Moore.

Score, the 24-year-old southpaw swiftly, gave way to a pinch hitter after three innings in his first championship appearance since his eye injury of last May 7. He left trailing 3-0.

Gus Triandos and Brooks Robinson split half of Baltimore's 12 hits off four Washington pitchers. Triandos homered a mong his three, Robinson tripled. Billy O'Dell won it in relief of Connie Johnson. Camilo Pascual was the loser.

Neal Rivers Will Battle Boyd Tonight

Chicago — Neal Rivers of Las Vegas, Nev., will try for his third straight knockout victory of the year tonight in a middleweight bout with Chicago's Bobby Boyd.

Each of the young scrappers has an impressive knockout record and the match in Chicago stadium may not go the 10-round distance. It will be televised (ABC starting at 9 o'clock, CST.) Scoring is under the five-point must system.

Rivers, 23, is becoming a sharp, effective puncher and is ranked No. 8 among the 160-pound contenders by the National Boxing association.

In running up 39 victories, Rivers has defeated such opponents as Charlie Sawyer, Jesse Turner, Milo Savage and Charley Joseph. The Alabama-born slugger has won 23 of his fights by knockouts.

The gangling Boyd, 24, is unranked by the NBA and is trying to battle back into contention after being rated among the top contenders several years. In winning 47 starts, he has taken 22 by kayoes.

Bruins Whack Canadiens, 3-1, Square Series

Cinderella Team Completely Outplays 5 to 1 Favorites

Boston — Hockey experts and fans wondered today if the Boston Bruins are a cinderella team headed for their first Stanley cup championship in 17 years.

The Bruins, originally on the wrong end of 5-1 odds, were all even after four games with the powerful Montreal Canadiens as the teams moved to Montreal for the fifth meeting of a best-of-7 series.

"The Bruins are playing terrific hockey and I honestly think they have a good chance," said Detroit Coach Sid Abel, a former National Hockey league star.

Abel is Amazed

Abel, whose Red Wings were knocked off by Montreal in four straight semi-final games, was amazed—as were countless others — Tuesday night as Boston completely outplayed the Canadiens for a 3-1 victory.

"Montreal ran away from all of us during the regular season, but the way the Bruins are going they can win the cup," Abel said.

"This makes the series a lot more interesting," said Boston coach Milt Schmidt. "I guess the Canadiens know now they have to do more than put on their uniforms."

"The series is narrowed down to the best of three," Montreal Coach Toe Blake said. "We're going to have to play better than we did tonight. Those Bruins are really hustling."

After Thursday night's game in Montreal, the teams will return to Boston for their sixth meeting Sunday. A seventh game, if necessary, will be played in Montreal next Tuesday.

Lou Perini Says Braves Face 'Herculean Task' This Season

Milwaukee — Lou Perini, owner of the Milwaukee Braves, said Tuesday night the Braves face a "Herculean task" this season in defending their world championship.

Speaking to a crowd of 780 persons at the thirty-third annual Elks Club baseball banquet, Perini said the National league more so than the American is closely balanced and that all seven other clubs want to beat the champions.

"We haven't by any means got this thing won again," said Perini. "We can't afford to be complacent. Everyone of those other fellows opposing us has but one purpose in mind—to beat the champions."

Beat Themselves

Perini noted that Manager Fred Haney said earlier in the program that the Braves beat themselves Tuesday when they

Giants' 6-Run Lead Confusing to Judge

San Rafael, Calif. — A reporter held up six fingers to signal Judge Charles Brusatori in Marin County Superior court.

He meant the Giants were leading the Los Angeles Dodgers, 6-0 in the National league's inaugural baseball game in San Francisco Tuesday.

But Judge Brusatori, although a baseball fan, misunderstood. He was expecting the birth of a sixth grandchild.

George Stewart Is Longtime Baseball Fan

During the game Stewart's job was to "stay around so I'm handy." Then, when the last player was dressed, George cleaned up the clubhouse and went home.

The job is tougher in wet weather. Then, the uniforms must be hung on lines to dry and, of course, they must be cleaned more often.

Mrs. Stewart is now as ardent a fan as her husband. "She didn't know much about the sport until I started working for the Papermakers," George says, "but now she knows as much, or more, as I do. During the season she sews up rips in players' street clothes, and puts on buttons, etc. She's as happy as I am to have baseball back."

The Stewarts have two children, a son and daughter, both grown.

Given Pocket Watch George, who was born in Dodgeville and came to Appleton in 1918, remembers the 1950 Papermakers as his favorite club. That team gave him an inscribed pocket watch which he carries proudly.

On the roster of that ball club was Stewart's favorite Appleton player — third baseman Sam David. "He was a very good boy morally," George remembers.

Another Appleton player who caught the clubhouse man's fancy was pitcher Dick Grabowski, who was optioned by the Milwaukee Braves' AAA Wichita farm club to Austin in the Texas league last Friday.

Stewart also took a special liking to George O'Donnell, who hurled for Hollywood in the Pacific Coast league last season.

O'Donnell spent some time with the Pittsburgh Pirates while Grabowski had a tryout with the Braves since leaving Appleton.

Stewart, whose nickname "Gas" comes from his initials G. A. S., has an amazing baseball memory.

Remembers Lineups Several years ago he remembered the lineups of Chicago Cubs and White Sox teams which he had seen in an intra-city game over 50 years ago. He says that he doesn't feel a day older than he did at 50 and that baseball has helped keep him young.

Stewart realistically says that baseball here is "going to be a gamble this year."

"But this should be a better brand of ball than we had before. Many of our Class D players were up here to have a good time, a vacation. These fellows should be more serious-minded about their jobs."

"With a break in the weather there's no question in my mind that it will go over," Stewart says.

Fans can be sure that Appleton's venerable long-time baseball fan will be doing his best to make the Foxes' first season a success.

Look Nothing Like Champs Even Veteran Braves Are Guilty of Lapses

BY CHUCK CAPALDO

Milwaukee — May be it was opening day jitters, but the Milwaukee Braves looked nothing like world champions Tuesday in losing to the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4-3, in 14 innings.

Even old hands like Warren Spahn and Andy Pafo were guilty of lapses not shown in the box score.

Hash Up Double Play Spahn's off-target throw second on an attempted double play helped the Pirates to their first run in the opening inning, and Pafo's sleepy effort on Bob Skinner's fly ball that fell between the outfielder and shortstop Johnny Logan led to another Pirate run in the eighth.

"We gave them those two runs," said Manager Fred Haney after the Braves' first opening day loss at County stadium since the team left Boston in 1953.

Skinner's high fly ball in the eighth was good for a double. He scored on an infield out and a single by Roberto Clemente.

Haney defended his run-and-hit strategy that backfired in the fourteenth inning as "the only thing to do."

With one out, Logan singled to left off rookie Curt Raydon, making his first appearance in a major league game.

With a count of 3-and-1 on Del Crandall, Logan took off for second base and Crandall swung and missed. Hank Foiles' throw to second baseman Gene Baker retired Logan.

Crandall then walked but Mel Roach struck out to end the game.

"He's got to be swinging on a 3 and 1 count," said Haney. "If it's a bad ball, he takes it, and, more than likely, we've got a man on second. If he hits it, the runner breaks up the double play because he's got a head start. You've got to have Logan going in case of a DP ball because Crandall is a slow runner."

"The only way you can beat on the play is for the batter to hit a line drive or the catcher to throw your runner out. And that's just what happened."

Rudolph, Key Reach Finals Of 'Western'

Delray Beach, Fla. — A once-a-week golfer and an a-day golfer battle it out today over the Country club of Florida course to determine the 1958 Western Amateur champion.

hits and three of their four runs. Groat scored on Klu's forceout after the Braves had muffed up two potential doubles.

Mathews connected for his first home run in the Braves' half of the first off starter Bob Friend, who left in the sixth. He connected again in the third to put the Braves ahead, 2-1. Skinner's gift double helped knot the count in the eighth. Then the Pirates moved in front, 3-2, in the ninth on Hank Foiles' single, a sacrifice and Bill Virdon's single.

Frank Torre led off against reliever Erloy Face with a single in the Braves' ninth, but was forced at second by Pafo. Pafo moved up a peg as Logan grounded out and scored the tying run on Del Crandall's single to left. There matters stood until the 14th when Groat, Skinner and Stevens ganged up on Conley and the Braves. Logan rifled a one-out single to left to keep the Braves' hopes alive, but was erased at second despite a bone-jarring take-out slide. Crandall swung and missed at a run and hit pitch and Foiles threw to Gene Baker to nail Logan. Crandall then drew a walk, but Raydon fanned Mel Roach to end the game.

Hamm's Team Rolls Tepid 2,808 in ABC

Syracuse, N.Y. — The Steven Jay team of St. Paul, Minn., fashioned the only major change at the American Bowling congress Tuesday when it cracked out a 3,008 series.

The St. Paul unit took fourth place in the open team division and might have gone father had it not rolled a 917 between heftier games of 1,041 and 1,050.

Veteran Harvey Olson anchored the Steven Jays with a 648 series.

The Hamm's Beer team of Chicago's Classic league rolled a tepid 2,808. None of its star-studded lineup managed to bowl a 600 series.

Avoids Court Test on Player Contract Suit

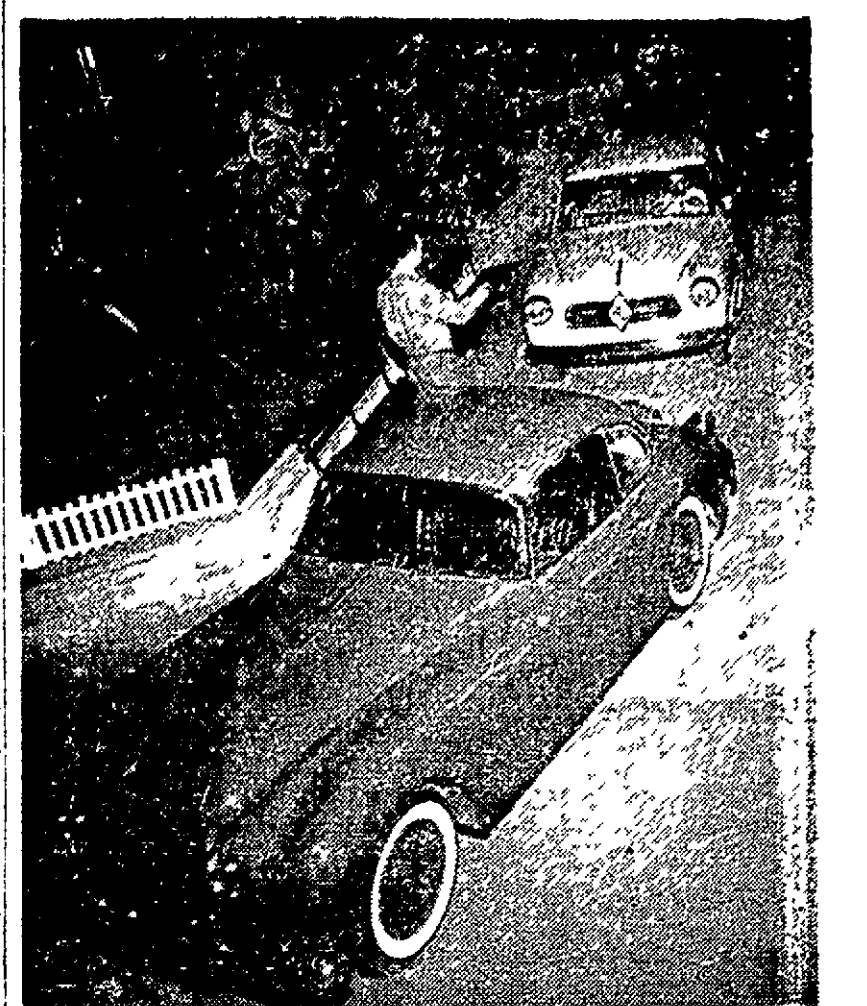

San Francisco — The National Football league has avoided a court test concerning player contracts by settling Bill Radovich's $105,000 antitrust suit.

Specific terms of the out-of-court settlement Tuesday were not disclosed but Maxwell Keith, attorney for the former NFL player, said it would bring Radovich about $10,000 a year if properly invested.

Radovich, 42, played with the Detroit Lions of the NFL from 1941 to 1945. In 1946 he went to the Los Angeles Dons in the now defunct All-America conference.

When he sought re-employment with the Lions, he said he was blacklisted and told he could not be rehired because of his jump to the All-America conference.

The U. S. supreme court ruled in February, 1957, that pro football, like boxing and legitimate theater bookings, but unlike baseball, was subject to anti-trust laws. The decision opened the way for Radovich's suit, which was to have gone to trial next month.

Foiles Wears Contact Lenses; Sportscasters Catch Walleye

Milwaukee — Pirates' catcher Hank Foiles claims he is the first catcher in major league history to wear contact lenses while working behind the plate for an entire game.

Foiles picked a good game for his record—14 innings.

Sportscasters Earl Gillespie and Blaine Walsh caught a fish—a 2-foot walleye, to be exact—during Tuesday's marathon game.

They got out a long-handled fish net to snare Warren Spahn's foul ball off the screen—as they usually do—missed it but almost came up with the fish lowered on a string by a fan in the upper deck.

The fan, Gordon J. Schmidt, a salesman from Milwaukee, dangled the dead walleye in front of the radio booth until Walsh cut it off. Walsh plans to have the fish mounted and hung in the booth.

The Braves' 1957 world championship pennant was raised to the top of a wooden telephone pole behind the fence in left center field after one false start. On the first try, the 15 by 37-foot blue on white standard became fouled in the guy ropes and had to be lowered again.

The temporary pole—a scarred, unpainted relic—will be replaced by a 125-foot steel pole in about a month. The wooden pole originally was erected in center field behind the fence, but was changed because the flapping flag would have interfered with the batters' vision.

The Braves wore the same uniforms Tuesday they used in the 1957 world series. They didn't have the same results.

Cleveland — Cecil Shorts, 147, Cleveland, outpointed Arthur Turner, 145, Detroit, 8.

Old Council Cleans Up Loose Ends of Term

Gas Company Asks For Time to Fix Streets and Alleys

Kaukauna — Unfinished business was handled by the old common council Tuesday night before the same aldermen organized the new council. All incumbents were reelected.

The Winnebago Natural Gas corporation asked the council to rescind action taken at the last session which would have the city repair alleys and streets with the gas company to be billed for one-half the cost and promised to handle the repairs itself in time.

The city engineer was directed to cooperate with the gas company.

Sidewalks Settle

The city engineer reported sidewalks on Taylor and Draper streets were settling severely, projects completed under the direction of the state highway department in 1957.

The engineer was authorized to check, with the state engineer and report to the board of public works on their findings.

Education Board to Ask Council for $515,000

Money Meets Low Bids for School Building Projects

Kaukauna — Low bids for the remodeling and construction of additions to the Park and Nicolet grade schools tabulated by the school board Tuesday appear to demand an appropriation by the city council of $515,000.

The common council will have to approve a bond issue to raise the necessary funds. Bids were opened at a special afternoon public hearing prior to the regular board of education session. No official action was taken.

Bids Received

Six general construction bids were received. Low bid was $338,800 by the Hoffman Construction company, Appleton, with $6,500 added for the first alternate, calling for asphalt tile floors in the classrooms. Even with the addition of the alternate figure, the low bid was below the next lowest bid without the alternate.

The bids ranged from the low of Hoffman without the alternate to a high of $442,491 without the alternate. An additional $10,800 was figured as alternate cost for tile flooring by the high bidder. Second low in the bidding without the alternate was $349,550.

Eleven bids were received for heating work ranging from a low of $44,218 to a high of $59,894. The R. Wenzel company, Appleton, was the low bidder.

Eight bids were received for the plumbing work with the R. Wenzel company again low with a bid of $68,856. The high bid was $93,896.

Four bids were received for electrical work. Low was Star Electric of Green Bay with a bid of $18,440. High bid was $32,780. The low figures plus washrooms and other areas will also be modernized.

Committees of Council Named

Mayor Reviews City Accomplishments, Cites Future Projects

Kaukauna — Committees appointments made by Mayor Joseph Bayorgeon were endorsed by the council Tuesday.

Named to the finance committee were Bert Roberts, Gil Anderson, Jewell Toms, William Glasheen and George Luebke.

Appointed to the health and recreation committee were James Gertz, Earl Luedtke, Fred Reichel, George Simon and Arnold Vander Loop, and to the public protection and safety committee were Glasheen, Reichel, Gertz, Luedtke and Vander Loop.

The purchasing committee is Toms, Simon, Anderson, Reichel and Roberts. Named to the legislative committee were Luebke, Simon, Vander Loop, Anderson and Luedtke. All aldermen will serve on the board of public works.

Other major appointments approved by the council included Bert Roberts as council member and Nicholas Mertes as citizen member to the board of electrical examiners for a 2-year term; Victor Haen to the board of appeals for a 3-year term; Al F. Mayer to the city planning commission for a 3-year term and George F. Propper to the fire and police commission for a 5-year term.

Mayor's Comments — The mayor declared the best thing for the city in 1958 would be its continued high level of employment, following many years of continuous orderly expansion and growth. He expressed hope for continued orderly growth but said it required the cooperation of city officials, county officials, business, industry and the general public.

Reviewing the city's growth since 1948, Bayorgeon stated, $211,127 was spent on new roads, $433,543 on new sewers, $92,361 on curb and gutters, $101,011 on sidewalks and $139,104 on water mains. During the same period the city has annexed 90.8 acres, accepted 17 plats containing 568 building lots and had 533 new homes built, continued Bayorgeon.

For the future the mayor advised aldermen of a $150,000 storm sewer project, a sewage treatment plant which would cost between $250,000 and $500,000 and increasing school needs. He also said, the city has 40 miles of roads of which less than one-half have permanent surfacing.

Red Ambassador Let Anti-Communists Starve

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — For several weeks now the American people have been told that the new Soviet ambassador, Mikhail Menshikov, is a nice fellow and that maybe, if he is a typical example, the communists aren't such bad folks after all. So the new envoy has been wined and dined, visiting delegations of Americans at the embassy here have been charmed by his smile, and he has been invited to sit down with some of the capitalistic elite in the mid-west.

But what is the true background of Mikhail Menshikov, and why, it might be asked, hasn't public attention been called to it before? For in the official proceedings of the congress of the United States there is a record of his willingness to let human beings starve in order to further the communist cause. This is in the report of a subcommittee of the house committee on foreign affairs printed in 1946 after a study in eastern Europe from August to October 1945. The report tells the sad story of what four members of congress found out about Menshikov's cruelty to hungry men, women and children in Poland. Here is the full text of an extract from that report to congress:

"The committee made some effort to investigate the operation of UNRRA (United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration) in Poland but unfortunately was somewhat limited in its efforts due to the fact that UNRRA had not as yet had sufficient opportunity to become organized upon a permanent basis. However, under the temporary arrangements that had been concluded, the committee was deeply disappointed in both its operation and the distribution of its supplies.

"The temporary head of the UNRRA delegation was Mikhail Menshikov, a Soviet citizen, who wielded great control and influence over the distribution of UNRRA's yet meager supplies. The distribution was limited to recipients who were active supporters or of collaborationists with the provisional Polish government.

"Upon the committee's return to this country, it lodged a strong protest with the president of the United States and was happy to learn that soon thereafter Menshikov was recalled and his place taken by Brig. Gen. C. M. Drury of Canada. Since the committee's return to the United States, it has kept in close and direct contact with UNRRA operations in Poland and has noted great improvement both in the operation and in the distribution of relief supplies."

Wed., April 16, 1958 Appleton Post-Crescent B 14

Mundt, Republican, now senator from South Dakota.

Since Gordon is temporarily out of the country, this correspondent interviewed Rep. Bolton and Sen. Mundt. Mrs. Bolton said:

Remembers Experience
"Yes, I remember the experience and what we found. Unless a person was a communist, he didn't get anything to eat. It was a very bad situation, and the people who needed our food most didn't get it. Menshikov was to blame for what happened and we said so plainly on our return to Washington."

Senator Mundt, confirming this, said:

"That is correct. As stated in the report, Menshikov was distributing these UNRRA supplies to the communists and not to the other people — and claiming credit for the Soviets, rather than for this country. The Soviets were contributing very little, if anything, to this relief agency. By getting the leadership echelon partly into the hands of the Russians, they very skillfully maneuvered their people at the top in these countries which even then, I suppose, they had in mind taking over. This was a very handy tool to win friends and influence people — that's what they used it for."

When Ambassador Menshikov came to Washington, he was received with open arms by various persons here. He was given time on television and he was publicized widely as exuding the best of feelings toward the American people. Yet behind the mask of smiles is a cruel streak.

It is not important alone as a revelation of what one communist did, but it's an example of the tyranny and inhumanity which lie behind the whole communist creed and the communist government.

One wonders why the Department of State didn't look up the record before giving its approval to Menshikov as an ambassador to the United States. For every government has a right to decide whether an individual is "persona grata" — acceptable to it — and certainly the record shows Menshikov had committed a serious offense against the American as well as the Polish peoples. His own government ought to recall him.

Plan to Raze Old House, Records Show

One of four houses which inspired complaints last August to the city council because of its age will be razed, records at Building Inspector Walter Bogan's office show.

The house is at 306 S. Meade street and is owned by the Anton Stadler estate. It will be razed within 30 days, Bogan was told.

Karl Baldwin, attorney, asked for condemnation of the four homes at the southeast corner of E. John street and S. Meade street in a letter to the council Aug. 21.

The letter was referred to the fire chief and the building inspector. Bogan said the razing had been planned by the estate, but was held up by a death of one of the heirs.

Other Permits

Other permits went to: Carl Timm, for construction of a 6-room house, with bath and attached garage, at 8:30 W. Marquette street, to cost about $12,000.

Appleton Wire Works, Inc., for razing old shed, 20 by 30 feet, at 908 N. Lave street.

Roger W. Lyons, for remodeling the residence at 214 E. Kimball street, for about $3,000.

Leon Nussbaum, for remodeling the residence at 801 W. Grant street, for about $750.

Mrs. Henry Balza, for remodeling the residence at 533 W. Seymour street, for about $990.

"Sooner or later it was bound to happen... some scientist put in a trip to the moon as a business trip."

Churches in Canada Join Safety Drive

Toronto — Churches throughout Ontario will celebrate "Safety Sunday" this weekend to put the ten commandments into operation on the highways.

The theme of the campaign, devised by the province's new highway safety commissioner, W. B. G. Reynolds, is that motorists are morally responsible for driving safely.

The Ontario highway department has turned out thousands of safety kits to help clergy members prepare for their sermons on safety this Sunday. More than one thousand requests for the literature were received from ministers of all faiths within the first few days after it became available.

"Everyone believes in the Sixth commandment," said Dr. E. A. Thomson, clerk of the Presbyterian Church assembly. "Thou shalt not kill" must stand behind every effort to reduce the tragic toll of death on our streets and highways."

Other churchmen backing the campaign include James Cardinal McGuigan, Roman Catholic archbishop of Toronto; the Rev. C. Howard Bentall, president of the Baptist federation; the Most Rev. W. L. Wright, Anglican bishop of Algoma; and the Right Rev. James Thomson, moderator of the United Church of Canada.

Auto accidents in Ontario took 11,279 lives last year and injured 30,414 persons. Property damage exceeded $37 million.

Yemen Charged With Aggression

London — Britain today charged Yemen with "flagrant acts of aggression" against two border forts in the Aden protectorate.

A note from Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, handed to Yemen's charge d'affaires, said the attacks occurred Sunday. It did not indicate whether there were casualties.

There was no indication in the protest that the Yemen forces included any troops from Egypt or Syria, recently federated with Yemen in the United Arab state.

Clashes have occurred sporadically for two years along the Yemen-Aden border. Yemen disputes British possession of the protectorate, in the southwestern corner of the Arabian peninsula.

Coin Collecting Proves Popular Hobby With Two Fox Cities Men

BY DAVID APKER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Collecting money may be a necessity for most people, but there is a group of citizens who collect it for fun.

They are a dedicated band known as numismatists, in short, coin collectors.

Two Fox Cities men, E. A. Werner, 1216 W. Elsie street, and the Rev. P. G. Rasmussen, 117 Meade street, Neenah, have developed their hobby into a fine and exacting art. Both have coin collections representing long hours of study and effort.

Werner, who has been collecting coins for eight years, specializes in American currency.

Builds Sets

The Appleton collector devotes most of this time to building complete sets of issues of pennies, nickels, dimes, quarters and half dollars. Each coin is carefully categorized and placed in display folders.

Werner has a set of nickels dating from 1853 to the present. Dimes, quarters and 50-cent pieces date from 1892.

He has an assortment of rare

His 1918 and 1942 quarters fall in that category. A close examination shows their dates have been stamped over the number of the previous year.

An error at the mint makes the coins far more valuable than their perfectly minted brethren.

Three Standards

Werner explains that three standards determine the value of a coin in his collection.

In some years the government minted fewer coins of a specific variety than in other years. Consequently they are harder to find and of greater value.

The value of a coin depends a great deal on its condition. Well-preserved coins are worth more. Werner constantly is seeking better coins to fill out his collections or to replace worn specimens.

Flaws have a lot to do with a coin's value, as illustrated by Werner's two rare quarters. He also owns a rare 3-legged buffalo nickel minted in Denver in 1937. A defect in a minting machine deprived the animal of its fourth leg and made it a much sought after object.

Interesting Histories

Some coins have interesting histories, Werner says.

A rare 1931 nickel owes its claim to fame to a night watchman at the Philadelphia mint who pressed off a few extra sets for his own use. One later sold for $15,000.

Werner estimates he sorted several million coins during 1957. He can process thousands of coins in a single evening.

Other interesting items in Werner's collection include a penny minted in 1793, half-cent pieces minted from 1794 to 1797 and quarters made from 1804 to 1807.

Bible Coins

Coins in Pastor Rasmussen's collection run from fairly recent mints to currency dating back to ancient Rome. He is specializing in coins mentioned in the Bible or dating to biblical times.

Pastor Rasmussen finances his outlay for Bible coins by building and selling sets of more valuable recent mints.

Prize items in his Bible collection are the denarius, ancient Roman coin of tribute, the judas coin, a silver piece used in Palestine during the time of Christ, and the "widow's mite," also mentioned in scripture.

Ancient coins often are less expensive than modern specimens because they usually are in poor condition and are easily obtainable, according to Pastor Rasmussen. He notes, however, that the ancient coin market is "tightening" as foreign governments pass laws restricting exports of antique currency.

Began Early

Pastor Rasmussen began his coin collecting adventures as a youth when a Sunday school teacher gave him a unique dime. He later added several Indian head pennies to the collection and went on to develop a life-long hobby.

"I polished the life out of those first coins," he states, "and ruined them all."

He says polishing is the worst possible thing for an old coin. The coins in his collection are preserved in the same form as when they were found.

In ancient times money often was buried in tombs because it was believed that a person would need wherewithal in the after-life. Businessmen looking for exportable coins have found happy hunting in the tombs of ancient civilizations.

There always will be speculators in any remunerative hobby, and coin collecting is no exception, Pastor Rasmussen declares. Some people attempt to corner the market on a specific coin. They wait until the price has been boosted to a point where they can turn a handsome profit on the sale.

Supply and demand conditions have a lot to do with a coin's selling price, he notes.

Paper Says Nathan's Widow Wants to be Nun

New York — (AP) — Julie Haydon, actress widow of George G. Nathan, plans to become a nun, the New York Post said Tuesday.

"I want to please God," she was quoted, "to make others' lives more pleasant. I hope to do the most possible with my life."

"With Mr. Nathan gone, I would be a woman drifting,

Movie Actors Can't Perform at Top Level, Preston Contends

New York — (AP) — Robert Preston says motion picture actors rarely have a chance to perform at their top level because of the economics of film production.

"Mostly, you have to work on one set until it's through and they tear it down and build the next," Preston asserts.

"So you're jumping from spot to spot. I don't care how good the actor is, you can't ask him to do his opening scene and then his closing scene on the same day."

alone in the world, just meddling in its affairs.

"My desire is to keep busy, and when I get my affairs in order, I hope to serve God alone."

Miss Haydon added that as a nun "I feel I can best live the life Mr. Nathan would have wanted me to lead."

Nathan died last Monday at the age of 77.

Soviets Mum On Progress Of A-Subs

Moscow — (AP) — If the Soviet Union is building atomic powered submarines and airplanes no one here is talking about them.

The Kremlin speaks frequently about scientific progress in many fields. But the subjects of atomic undersea craft and nuclear powered aircraft are not mentioned.

It is likely, however, that Nikita S. Khrushchev's oft-repeated directive that Soviet scientists must overtake and surpass the United States includes those responsible for Soviet progress under the sea and in the air.

Last November in a Soviet youth magazine a Soviet colonel described flying tests of an atomic engine for airplanes—but did not claim the tests were made in Russia.

The writer, Col. N. Varvarov, said the time is not far off when nuclear fuel will power aircraft, but his article dwelt more on the unsolved problems of atomic flight than on Russian progress.

In the field of atomic propulsion the only known Soviet vessel is the 16,000-ton atomic ice-breaker Lenin, launched last December and now being fitted with its nuclear engines.

If other Soviet atomic vessels exist, Soviet scientists and official spokesmen are keeping mum about them.

U. S. Rear Adm. H. G. Rickover has estimated the Soviet Union's existing undersea fleet at 500 submarines and its capacity to build them at about 100 a year.

Raided U. S. Bomber

Raided Celebes Airfield

Jakarta, Indonesia — (AP) — Prime Minister Djuanda claimed Tuesday that a plane which dropped a bomb on a government-held airfield in the Celebes was an American-built B25 bomber.

Djuanda indicated that the plane was piloted by "adventurers" in the hire of the Sumatran rebels. Information Minister Sudibjo said the plane was manned by foreigners but he did not specify the nationality.

Djuanda did not say that the plane was piloted by Americans or belonged to the United States. But his remarks were certain to touch off more charges from leftist Indonesian leaders and newspapers that the United States, possibly working through nationalist China and the Philippines, is helping the rebels.

Religious Items May Be Exempt From Duty

Washington — (AP) — Legislation pending in congress would exempt from import duty certain articles used for religious purposes, such as altars, pulpits, communion tables, baptismal fonts, and shrines, which are imported for the use of churches or other religious institutions.

Duke Declares British Should Join Space Race

London — The Duke of Edinburgh said today he thinks Britain ought to get into the space race with the United States and Russia.

"I personally cannot believe that the British people or the people of the commonwealth will be content to sit by and watch others explore the universe around us," Queen Elizabeth's husband said in opening a discussion on guided missiles and space travel. The discussion was organized by the Air League of the British empire, of which the duke is patron. An audience of 2,500, most of them young people, attended.

The duke said Britain's lag in plans for space travel is not due to any lack of willingness or scientific brain power.

"It is simply that research and development for space travel is almightily expensive. We could only possibly go in for this if we were prepared to make very considerable sacrifices in other directions," he said.

Pension Funds Total More Than Believed

Registrations Show Assets Exceed $12 Million So Far

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — Employee welfare and pension funds total far greater more than state officials knew when they moved last year to provide for state inspection and regulation of the management of those funds.

Insurance Commissioner Paul J. Rogan, whose agency is responsible for the examination of such funds, has disclosed here that the combined assets of such funds thus far registered exceed $12 millions.

More than 1,400 separate funds have been registered thus far, and additional registrations are being received each week. The department is now working out a plan for examination procedures and filing requirements, in collaboration with an advisory committee representing employees, management and the public.

37,000 Employers Funds representing more than 37,000 employers have thus far been registered. The combined assets run into huge amounts, officials explained, because many giant corporations with interstate relations are required to file here on behalf of their Wisconsin employees.

National figures on the probable assets of such funds are estimates, because public filing requirements are still few. But the state agency here guessed that the total national worth of such funds is probably around $30 billions.

Under the new act the state department is empowered to examine the affairs of any fund whenever it is believed necessary and must do so at least once in five years. Regular reports also are required.

Sewer, Water Laterals Set For 16 Streets

A preliminary resolution declaring the city's intent to construct sewer and water laterals on 16 streets has been approved by the street and sanitation committee.

The resolution will be presented to the city council to-night. Property owners, if the council approves, will be served with a 20-day notice to have the work done themselves or the city will have the work done.

If the city does the work, it will charge property owners the cost which is certified by the contractor who wins the contract.

N. Racine street from E. Grant to E. Woodland.

Looking Beyond the Recession

Opinions on the state of the national economy and what must be done about it are offered on every hand. Our representatives in Washington appear to think that they have the fate of the nation in their hands, and that everything may depend on whether they vote for a tax reduction, a big public works program or both.

Many businessmen and economists seem to agree with one side or the other in the Washington debate, but there are others who believe that what the people do is much more important than anything their senators or representatives do. Pierre S. du Pont III, secretary and member of the board of E. I. du Pont de Nemours and Company, recently declined to give the Georgia State Chamber of Commerce an estimate of the trend of the economy in the near future.

"The fact is," he said, "I don't have the slightest idea whether the short term economic trend will be up, down, or even sideways. Despite the guessing that is going on, I don't believe anyone else knows either, including Congress and the economists."

It is quite obvious that du Pont has been reading many of the numerous statements by politicians and economists. The conclusion that no one really knows what is immediately ahead is almost inevitable from a wide reading of such statements.

However, du Pont's opinion on the real cause of the depression and what could end it is interesting. He says the vast majority of Americans have not only the essentials of food, clothing and shelter, but also the ability to buy automobiles, washing machines, television sets and many other conveniences which royalty would have regarded as luxuries in the not too distant past. In this economy of plenty there is a pool of purchasing power which can be spent at the discretion of the people. The timing of this spending has a great deal to do with the short term state of business. Decisions made by tens of millions of Americans on when — not whether — to make purchases determine whether current business is good or bad. When the overwhelming sum of these decisions is to buy now, we have a boom, and when it is to buy later, we have a slump. He drove home his point by hazarding the guess that a number of people in the room — Georgia businessmen — had postponed the purchase of some major item because of the notion that business is a little uncertain.

However, du Pont has no fear of the future. The decision to spend will come of necessity when the present equipment wears out, or confidence in the state of business returns to the people as it always does.

Within 10 years, he said, our difficulty will not be unemployment, even temporary, but finding workers to operate and maintain the machines which will be required to meet our needs. Then he asked his audience what it would think of a proposal to bring into the United States during the next 20 years all of the people now living in Canada, Mexico, Norway, Sweden and Denmark?

What would we do with them? That raises the real question, which is what are we going to do with the same number of Americans who will be added to our population if it continues to increase at the present rate.

He thinks we can handle the problem and points to a recent long-range survey by scientists at California Institute of Technology which indicates that we can, even in an era where we may be getting our minerals and chemicals from ordinary rock, our food from the minute organisms of the sea, and our energy directly from the sun or from the fusion of hydrogen from the oceans. Their only reservation, he said, was whether our schools would develop the scientific skills and talents required for that technological age.

The speaker made it clear that he did not wish to minimize the gravity of the present problems facing the nation. But while we are struggling with those problems, it may be wise to remember that they are temporary and that America's future is challenging and inspiring.

Salute to Our School Boards

For any community to function effectively it must have its quota of residents who are immediately responsive to the call of civic duty.

The Fox Cities are fortunate in having been blessed, over the years, with more than our fair share of such people.

Some of the biggest jobs they fill here are on our school boards. School board members are responsible for one of our most important products — well-educated minds. More tangibly, they pass on the expenditure of millions of dollars, including some of the most extensive construction and renovation work done here.

For this, school board members in most of the Fox Cities receive no pay and must go to the trouble of presenting their names to the electorate every three years.

Few non-paying community service jobs are more demanding. School boards meet either monthly or semi-monthly, and the duration of the meetings doesn't begin to indicate the amount of time spent on board duties.

In the light of these things it is not hard to understand why sometimes candidates don't clamor to run for these jobs and, occasionally, board members must be appointed.

Despite the first-glance unattractiveness of school board jobs, they are manned by some of our cities' highest-caliber people.

Why? Almost all of these people have children in the school system and feel a deep interest in their youngsters' education. Many school board members are prompted by others to run for the jobs. Then, after serving on the board, they become so interested and involved in its programs that they continue to run.

The fact that most of our school boards are not paid confines their membership to people who are interested principally in service and not primarily in "moonlighting" to supplement the family income. Our school systems would be nowhere near as good as they are without the school board setup and the people who make it work. We owe them all a sincere debt of gratitude.

Tragedy in Hollywood

The tragedy surrounding 14-year-old Cheryl Crane has been widely publicized because of the prominence of her mother and the public's eager appetite for the details of the lives of its movie star heroines. Youngsters commit rather shocking crimes almost every day because they are mistreated, neglected or because they are ill, but this girl is Lana Turner's daughter and that makes the difference.

Of course, such curiosity is simply human. Many people live such prosaic lives, or even, famously, "of quiet desperation" that the rowdy misfortunes of the rich and the famous give them some escape from their own lives. The mistakes of others serve to give us a feeling of stability, pride and security in a shaky world.

But the public, too, must then bear some of the blame for the stabbing of underworld fringe dweller Johnny Stompanato. It is our general shrugging of shoulders over some movie marriage habits which seem to border on legal prostitution, our tolerance of stars' associations with racketeers and mugs, our casual acceptance of high-jinks and hangovers as necessary to the arty existence, which help to bring about such tragedies. An individual's moral life is basically his or her own business. But when the problems extend to lay a curse on the next generation it is time for the public to stop applauding.

Teachers Win Income Tax Victory

The Internal Revenue Department has ruled that taxpayers may deduct for purposes of reporting income the cost of courses taken voluntarily to improve their skill in their work. Further the announcement says the deduction may be made even though the extra courses helped the taxpayer to qualify for promotion or higher salary.

The ruling applies to such workers as teachers, civil servants, insurance agents, lawyers, physicians, engineers and others who may take advanced studies in their own line of work.

Robert B. Anderson, secretary of the treasury, says the ruling will remove the distinction previously drawn between self-employed persons and those employed by others. It is regarded as a great victory for school teachers and many in that profession have indicated that this ruling may do much to improve the quality of teaching in the schools.

It is an example of how a little common sense can be introduced into the rules governing income tax payments.

What Price Supports Cost

From the Wisconsin Council of Agriculture Newsletter

Price supports under existing law are based on "maintenance of adequate supplies". From 1950 through 1957 the dairy support program has cost the government $1,780,000,000. This should be compared with $2,657,200,000 for wheat, $237,000,000 for corn, and $1,014,500,000 for cotton.)

These Days

Economic Demands of Satellites Could Become Drain on Soviet

BY GEORGE SOKOLSKY
(Copyright, 1958)

Allen Dulles, director of Central Intelligence, occasionally delivers an address, which generally goes by unnoticed for some reason or other, but which contains essential truth that ought to make a profound impression on Americans. In one of the speeches he said:

"In the case of the Soviet Union there has been an extraordinary consistency over the years in basic policy declarations and the subsequent actions of the communist leadership.

The statement issued by the Soviet Union and allies and satellites in Moscow last November on the 40th anniversary of the bolshevik revolution might well have been written by Lenin. The declaration of the recent Afro-Asian conference in Cairo was on all fours with the program of the congress of the peoples of the east which the soviet held in Baku in 1920. Lenin himself predicted in 1923 that the outcome of the struggle would be determined by the population masses of Russia, India and China."

I recently came across a 2-volume collection of letters and other documents entitled "Correspondence Between the Chairman of the Council of Ministers of the U. S. S. R. and the Presidents of the U. S. A. and the Prime Ministers of Great Britain During the Great Patriotic War of 1941-1945." The volumes were published in Moscow in 1957. Altogether 290 letters were exchanged between Roosevelt and Stalin. The 291st letter is Stalin's to Truman expressing Stalin's regret that Roosevelt died.

Economic War From this correspondence, one discovers how continuous the Russian policy is. Friendship or enmity are all one; they are manifestations of the same policy and to me, at any rate, it is clear that Khrushchev, like Stalin before him and Lenin before Stalin, regards the economic war as of equal importance with the military war and that success is more likely in the economic field. On this subject, Dulles says:

"They probably estimate that if they can induce us to devote our resources almost exclusively to the military field, they can the more easily break our economic and cultural ties with other nations and win them over."

They have several advantages over us, but with skill, we could turn their advantages into disadvantages. In the economic field, they have "no budgetary limitations or legislative restrictions, as Allen Dulles says. On the other hand, if their satellites and uncommitted nations demand more and more, their capacity to supply could be exhausted. Dulles reports that the Soviet bloc, as he calls it, has extended about $2,000,000,000 of credit and grants to other countries, 95 per cent going to Afghanistan, Egypt, Syria, India, Indonesia and Yugoslavia. These are countries that are also being aided by the United States. They are the "honest" uncommitted nations, "honest" in the sense that they will take from both sides. Offers are also being made to many other countries. It is now known that Soviet Russia is pursuing its aid program in Central and South America.

Aids Other Countries Soviet Russia is required to provide aid to other communist countries. Red China has received about $2,000,000 over a decade as military credits and hardware and outright cash. Toward the conversion of the indigenous economic and social system to Russian-style communism, $900,000,000 went to Poland, $650,000,000 to east Germany, $450,000,000 to red China. In a word, Soviet Russia is throwing money around as though Harry Hopkins were in charge. That money is taken out of the standard of living of the Russian people. It does not matter whether an economy is capitalistic or socialistic, governments can only receive the bulk of their revenues from the earnings of their people.

While it is true that all this is a drain on Russia's economy, it also is true that Russia has managed to keep the standard of living of its people sufficiently down not to be a drain on its raw materials or competitive with its military or political program. Outside of Russia, the socialistic economy of Russia seems to be miraculous, although its basis is more than a century of experience in the west, particularly in the United States, Great Britain and Germany. This, Soviet Russia does not deny. Under Marxist theory, one system grows out of a previous one. The socialist system is based on capitalism and will be followed by communism. This is the theory: in practice, it means that they do the best with our development that they can.

Council Names City Officials

79 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of April 19, 1879.

The Common Council chamber was crowded Tuesday evening and the show kept late hours.

After several ballots, Dr. E. Stansbury was reelected city physician over Dr. J. R. Reilly.

F. W. Hoefer was reappointed night watch — a proper thing to do; George M. Kreiss was reappointed lamp lighter; and Ald. Chase Prescott, an old resident, was appointed commissioner of the poor.

J. M. Barker was properly appointed city engineer. He is one of the most capable of civil engineers in the land and a worthy citizen.

Under the last amendment of the city charter, the council selected John S. Lester for chief engineer and Chris Heinz for assistant. Both are experienced firemen and if sustained by the council will achieve some needed reforms in that department.

The council will meet again next Tuesday evening, when it is anticipated that the price of saloon licenses will be advanced to $100. The alderman also threatened to have every sidewalk in the city repaired within 30 days, if they have to enlist a regiment of men to do the job.

Directors of the Wisconsin Cooperative Milk Pool, by a unanimous vote late Tuesday afternoon, were authorized to call a general milk strike not later than May 13. More than 10,000 members of the pool as well as members of the Farmers' Union and the Farmers' Holiday association were to join the strike.

Trustees of the River Boat club elected A. Lester Koch commodore. Paul Stevens was named vice commodore. Max Klitzke, rear commodore. Anton D. Walker, fleet captain. M. H. Huckins, quartermaster. Joseph Cannon. Lieutenant fleet captain, Anton Moskel, caretaker.

The election of Frank W. Clippinger as president of the Appleton Rotary club was announced. Alfred S. Bradford was named vice president.

What a Day to Write This Dismal Forecast About Income Taxes

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison—The evident decline in the general economy, whatever its degree and duration, will put the spotlight on the essential weakness of the Wisconsin state governmental fiscal system. The state income tax, the buttress of the state government's multifarious program of spending, is more sensitive to the economic barometer than any other tax. It may take some more months to put the facts on the record, but the decline in business volume today will shrink state income tax receipts next year — at a time when the state's budget situation will be so tender that every missing dollar will be extremely painful.

What the state is collecting now from hundreds of thousands of income taxpayers is due on salaries and earnings and other taxable receipts for the calendar year 1957. That year was a flush one, for all practical purposes, and the current tax totals are likely to reflect it. Probably the receipts will continue on the relatively high level predicted. If there is a decline it will be moderate. The state budget will be in no immediate danger.

BUT WAIT . . . But next year's state budget will depend for its solvency on the tax receipts of 1958, and depending on what happens in the next few months, those tax receipts will be barely sufficient to balance that budget, or will fall short and cause a crisis for the 1959 legislature which convenes next January.

Even a decline of as little as 10 or 15 per cent would bring the necessity for substantially higher income taxes—or some new kind of taxation—or both. For it is extremely unlikely that the increases in state spending next year will be moderate enough to permit balancing the budget with present tax machinery, even if this year's earnings are high enough to guarantee tax returns of the volume of this year and last.

One of the incongruities of the national economy today is that the country is worrying about recession — as shown by employment and sales indices, on the one hand, and inflation, as shown by continuing price and cost rises — on the other. The state government, in its consumptive and earning capacities, faces the same riddles here as does the perplexed individual citizen. The other day's emergency board session was typical. On the one hand members were forced to dole out large sums for cost increases in supplies and wages and other items not anticipated when the appropriations were written; on the other it had to pass out emergency funds, equally unexpected, for such matters as Indian relief claims arising out of unemployment in some parts of Wisconsin.

DAY OF RECKONING

Perceptive legislators, the handful of them, have known that the day would come when the legislature would be required to reevaluate the entire state-local revenue system. The state has gambled, with extraordinary luck thus far, with a revenue system devised in another generation, and that somehow managed to survive heavy and variegated new spending demands upon it.

The margin of fiscal safety has become ever more thin. The present budget was built on the assumption of economic stability, even economic expansion. The reverse trends becoming evident, therefore, constitute unmistakable signals that the next legislature will be required to face up to some fundamental decisions.

Until now the state has been in the position of the man who had the leaky roof, but saw no occasion to fix it because there was uninterrupted sunshine.

The rains may be coming, for the next Wisconsin legislature and the next governor.

Potomac Fever

April 15th question for mankind: Oh, what is worse than income tax — except perhaps those girls in sacks?

Harry Truman invades Washington. If Ike is the nation's father image, Harry is our uncle image — the one who ran off with the carnival and has the ferris wheel concession.

Housewives mobilizing for President Eisenhower's "Buy Now!" campaign have made a slight change in the title. They call it the "Go For Broke!" campaign.

Sign on the weather forecaster's office after 20 days of cold, wet spring: "Don't blame me. I voted for Stevenson."

Treasury Secy. Anderson makes a speech in blank verse. You can figure how things are going, when Ike's businessmen start envying the poets in the attics.

Six-year-old son: "Daddy, is President Eisenhower a cave man?" Dad: "No, why?" Son: "Every week the paper says he went south with his clubs."

One fellow boasts the most patriotic wife on the block. Since Ike urged every one to buy, she does nothing but go around opening charge accounts and humming the Stars and Stripes Forever.

Weyenberg Cow Tops March DHIA Report

102 Pound Fat Test Leads List For Outagamie

A cow owned by Bert Weyenberg topped the March report of the Dairy Herd Improvement association with a test of 102 pounds of butterfat. Weyenberg had three other cows in the top 10 in the county. They tested 94, 90 and 88 pounds of fat.

Leo Schampers had two cows in the top 10. They tested 95 and 92 pounds. Also in the top 10 were cows owned by Lloyd Bohl, 94 pounds; Mack and Dey, 93 pounds; Hietpas Dairy farm, 91 pounds; and Robert Paltzer, 89 pounds.

Ing Vegoe reported the best percentage of his herd producing better than 40 pounds of butterfat. He had 90.9 per cent of his 11-head herd above that mark.

In the top herds were Darrell Bottrell, 84.6 per cent; Len Voight and Sons, 84.2 per cent; Weyenberg, 78.9 per cent; Arnold Volkman, 78.9 per cent; Elwyn Staley, 76 per cent; Oscar Miller No. 1, 75.7 per cent; Marvin Krahn, 71.4 per cent; Schampers, 69.6 per cent; and James Garvey and Bohl, each with 68.6 per cent.

Northland Farms, one of the state's biggest turkey producers, has been running a hatch of 3,500 birds, like this, for the last five weeks. Almost 25,000 birds will be hatched from eggs shipped in from the Lovelace Ranch, in California, before the season ends. (Seboran Photo)

Action of Farm Prices To Determine New Laws

Congressmen Watching Market to Guide Direction of Legislation for New Future

BY OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Farm Editor

Washington —(AP)—The way farm prices act during the next few weeks may have great influence on what congress does about farm legislation.

Some farm leaders are expressing pessimism about livestock markets. They expect a considerable downturn in prices of better grades of cattle and of hogs later this month and in May.

These views are based on reports that some meat distributors are beginning to run into trouble disposing of higher priced meats, due to unemployment and the general economic situation. There are signs that farmers may be holding back meat animals for later marketings.

Cattle and hog prices normally decline at this time of the year. But a drop of more than seasonal proportions could well have strong repercussions in congress.

Congressional leaders must decide whether to try to override President Eisenhower's veto of a bill that would freeze 1958 farm price supports at not less than 1957 levels. A two-thirds vote in both the senate and house would be required to override.

Some congressional farm leaders are talking in terms of stronger legislation — a measure that would restore wartime supports at 90 per cent of parity. This would be intended as a stronger anti-recession measure than the bill rejected by Eisenhower.

Under present law, supports for major crops may range between 75 and 90 per cent of parity. Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to prices charged them.

An early sharper-than-normal seasonal decline in livestock prices might well build up strong congressional backing for the high, rigid supports.

Bad Oat Rust Year Seen by Agronomists

This year may be a bad one for oat rust, according to a University of Wisconsin agronomist.

H. L. Shands says Texas researchers report large amounts of new races of leaf rust on oats in their area. There were similar reports from Texas last spring, Shands points out. Later the leaf rust migrated to Wisconsin in large amounts, causing heavy damage among some varieties in the southern part of the state.

The Texas rust has been described as a complex of races which became prevalent for the first time in 1957. That means the infection on present varieties cannot be predicted accurately, Shands explains.

But he points out that Bee-dee, Fayette and Clintland varieties weathered the storm last year when similar types of rust were prevalent.

Yields last year average 52½ bushels per acre for the state — an all-time high. Shands says this indicates farmers generally are planting the right varieties to cope with the rust situation.

With further research, the Wisconsin plant scientists hope to find some oats with resistance to these newer rust races.

Maples Threatened By Blight in Midwest

Many Agencies Band Together to Fight Killer Endangering 'Bread-Butter' Tree

Madison — The public and private conservation agencies of the Great Lakes states are going to war against a blight that is threatening the sugar maple, the "bread and butter" tree of forestry in the North Central part of the country. The Wisconsin conservation department, the Lakes States experiment station at St. Paul, the University of Wisconsin, the Michigan conservation department, the Northern Hemlock and Hardwood Manufacturers association and the Maple Flooring Manufacturing association are pooling their resources and their talents for a combined assault upon the problem.

They will share the cost of surveying and research, which it is hoped will show the way for a remedial effort. The sugar maple, the staple of the big sawmill, veneer and flooring industries of Wisconsin and adjacent states, is becoming increasingly important in the pulp and paper industry. It is the base of the maple sugar production of the state, and in total volume of standing timber, now ranks third in the state. It is exceeded only by aspen and oak.

The cause of the sudden mortality in the species is thus far undetermined, although it has been learned that the heaviest damage thus far has been in Wisconsin.

One major industry with a large acreage of hardwoods under sustained yield management has already suffered a loss of nearly one million board feet of maple saw logs, it was disclosed.

In the areas of distress, mature trees and younger specimens have been attacked, including seedlings. Smaller owners including "sugar bush" owners have also become concerned.

Too High Temperatures In Drying Corn May Cut Its Feeding Value

Illinois Researcher Finds 160 Degrees
Maximum Level to Hold Protein Content

Research studies indicate that drying high-moisture corn at temperatures over 160 degrees lowers its feeding value.

Although his research is meager and results are not completely conclusive, the evidence from studies with rats is strong enough to show that high-temperature drying lowers both energy and protein values in corn, according to A. L. Neumann, head of the beef cattle division at the University of Illinois college of agriculture.

Neumann pointed out that the results of rat nutrition work can be applied directly to swine and poultry feeding. Ruminants are not so critical in their protein quality needs or in the form in which their energy is supplied. They can be expected to gain as fast on high-temperature-dried corn as on crib-dried corn.

However, the elevator operator must satisfy his most critical customer, Neumann said. For that reason, he recommends drying temperatures below 160 degrees, and preferably around 140 degrees, on corn being dried for sale.

In the rat experiments, gains were reduced as much as 32 per cent in the rats fed high corn rations in which the corn was dried at 160 degrees. Adding supplemental protein improved the gains. But adding protein to swine and poultry rations would increase the cost of the ration.

Illinois tests with steers showed that corn dried at 180 degrees was good enough for steer feeding. But corn to be sold must be acceptable for all kinds of rations. Therefore it should be dried at comparatively low temperatures.

Tree Handling Before Planting Vital Factor

Many Farmers Hurt Success of Venture Through Carelessness

Foresters agree that the way many farmers handle forest trees before planting practically guarantees their failure.

Proper handling and storage of planting stock are just as important as proper planting, says Robert Nelson, extension forester at the University of Illinois Dixon Springs experiment station.

Many landowners this spring will be faced with soil that is too wet to plant trees when their nursery stock arrives, Nelson believes. If that's the case, the trees will need to be properly stored to keep them alive and healthy until they can be planted.

Trees that can be planted within one or two days after they arrive may be left in their 30-packing containers and put in a cool, shady spot so that they won't dry out. A cool basement is an excellent place. If however, the trees will have to be held for several days, they should either be heeled in or put in cold storage, Nelson says.

An easy way to heel in nursery stock is to open a furrow with a plow. Cut the strings around each bundle of trees and put them along the sides of the furrow. Cover the roots with dirt and pack it tightly. Do not leave any roots exposed.

After heeling in, water the trench thoroughly and put up a board or burlap shade if the trench is not in a shady place.

Cold storage works well for large numbers of trees to be held for several days before planting. Storage should be dry and free from any chemical that might harm the trees. Temperature range should be from 34 to 38 degrees, but the trees should not be allowed to freeze.

The County Agent Answers

What are the fertilizer recommendations for apple trees?

Apply a complete fertilizer such as 10-10-10. Use one-half pound for each year of age up to 10 pounds per tree. Best results are obtained if it can be applied throughout the top six inches of soil. This will be done by filling holes at three feet intervals. Fertilizer should extend to the outer edge of the branches.

When should raspberries be fertilized?

The spring of the year is the most suitable time. Raspberries should never be fertilized during the growing season. Well rotted stable manure or six to eight pounds of 10-10-10 per 100 feet of row is recommended. Be sure to keep the raspberry rows narrow and well pruned.

Can Moss Eared Chickweed be controlled in lawns?

This is a very difficult lawn weed to control and steps must be taken early in the spring. At the present time, moss eared chick weed will show up as one of the greenest spots in the lawn. It can be controlled if two applications of 2-4-D are used. They should be spaced from 10 to 14 days apart.

What is meant by the term "Resin Finish" on your wool sweater or sox labels?

It means that a resin mixture has been applied to the surface layers of the wool. This will stop the fibers from tangling and, therefore, stop felting shrinkage. As a result of the resin treatments, wool pilling is greatly reduced and there is little change in the strength of wool. The only difference in the physical change in the treated fabric is that it tends to get a little stiff and the feel of the wool is changed slightly. However, research is experimenting with softening agents to correct the stiffening.

Bean Pickers' Jobs Threatened By Machines

Employment Service Sees Loss of Much Vacation Time Work

Madison—(AP)—Mechanization is about to end bean picking by hand in Wisconsin.

M. P. Verhulst, executive secretary of the Wisconsin Cannery Assn., reports 90 per cent of the state's 1958 bean acreage will be machine harvested. In 1956, 35 per cent was picked by machine and in 1957, 60 per cent.

Prior to those recent years bean picking was a good source of revenue for young people.

A. Thomas Rose, director of the State Employment service, said that from an employment standpoint it will mean loss of jobs for thousands of youngsters.

He lamented the fact that youngsters who usually counted on bean picking work are between the ages of 10 and 14-ages when it's hard to find work.

He added: "Bean picking was healthful exercise and kept the kids busy during the period when the first glow of vacation freedom wore off. It's during this time that they get 'antsy' and need to be occupied."

Water Supply Protected by Safety Device

If your barn was burning, would you still have water to fight the fire?

Many farms have the smitich for the electric water pump located in either the barn or the milk house. If fire strikes and knocks out the electricity to these buildings, they may be left high and dry.

At the University of Wisconsin electrical research farm, all electricity comes into a central control box. The power goes to the buildings from there. The water pumps are hooked to a separate line right at this central control box.

Lynn Brooks, University of Wisconsin farm electricity specialist says, "If fire broke out in the barn, we could shut off the electricity to the barn, but still have water to fight the fire."

Delighted Children See Many, Varied Rabbits

All Sizes of Hares Entered at Annual Exhibition Produced by New London Club

BY DICK McDANIEL

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

New London — Rabbits of all most every size, shape and color were demonstrated Sunday when the Wolf River Rabbit Breeders association held its spring show at the V.F.W. clubhouse.

Exhibitors, to the delight of the New London and area children, brought 266 rabbits for the judging contests, according to Robert Bridges, show secretary.

It was a perfect field-day for the youngsters as they toured the aisles, commenting vigorously on the various breeds. The exhibitors came from Dakota, Ill., West Bend, Plymouth, Milwaukee, Kewaunee, Marshfield, Beaver Dam, Manitowoc, Madison, Janesville, Marinette, Sheboygan and New London.

Don Reed, Lockport, Ill., show judge, was kept busy from about 9 o'clock Sunday morning until the show closed late Sunday afternoon. A feature of the show also was a display of rabbits entered by members of 4-H clubs.

The host club returned about $115 of the proceeds of the show to the exhibitors in cash prizes. It also arranged for many other merchandise prizes.

Bridges, who also was one of the show's major contributors in the number of rabbits displayed, said results of the New London members were computed Monday and the others will be assayed before the end of the week.

Bridges received 12 firsts, five, seconds; two, thirds; four, fourths, and one, fifth; Alois Delzer, four, firsts; two, seconds; two thirds; three, fourths, and one, fifth; Kenneth Fehrman, one, first, and three, seconds; Earl Dean Delzer, two, seconds; Linda Johnson, two, firsts and two seconds; John Warmbrunn, one, first, and three, seconds; Ken Kalies, one, first, and two, seconds; and William Krueger, three, firsts, and two seconds.

Members of the auxiliary to the Learman-Schaller post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars served refreshments to the visitors and spectators.

SCS Schedules Demonstration Of Land Leveling

Waupaca County Farm Site of April 18 Showing

Waupaca — A land leveling demonstration will be conducted by the Soil Conservation Service April 18 on the Elder Behm farm which is located about a mile west of Weyauwega on Highway 10.

This year marks the first widespread use of land leveling for conservation purposes in Waupaca county. Land leveling has been done on the Waupaca county farm and proved successful. Yields were nearly doubled on leveled land, according to Nimlos.

Land leveling is a process of grading or planing the ground surface by mechanical means to reduce small elevated areas and fill in minor depressions. It provides a uniform plane on which surface water can move into field drains without collecting in pot-holes.

Laverne Jensen is the owner of the machine and will conduct the demonstration on the Behm farm which is located about a mile west of Weyauwega on Highway 10.
